Growth to slow, India still fastest growing economy

Economic Survey 2022-23 bullish on private investments picking up; CEA says the global slowdown could actually work in favour of India

FINE PRINT

GDP growth to slow to 6.5% in FY24 from 7% this fiscal, but India will remain the fastest growing economy in the world

Growth in FY23 has been led by private consumption and capital formation

Gross tax revenues touched 65% of Budget estimates at ₹17.81 lakh crore in first eight months of the current fiscal, propelled by corporate and personal income tax mop-up

RBI's projection of retail inflation at 6.8% in FY23 is neither too high to deter private consumption, nor so low to weaken investments

Rupee to remain under pressure due to muted exports growth and widening current account deficit

Domestic coal production to soar to 1.5 billion tonnes by 2030, will replace imports

Survey calls for entirely dismantling licensing, inspection and compliance regime, and a host of other reforms to accelerate economic growth to sustained higher levels

It suggests simpler tax rules to lure Indian-owned startups abroad to shift to India

DIPAK MONDAL @New Delhi

INDIA's GDP could grow at 6.5% in FY24 despite a slowing global economy thanks to the reforms undertaken by the Narendra Modi government in the past eight years, the Economic Survey 2022-23 tabled in Parliament on Tuesday said.

"The growth in the upcoming year will be supported by solid domestic demand and a pickup in capital investment," the survey said with a caveat that tighter monetary policy globally and subdued exports might hamper the projections.

RUN-UP TO BUDGET 2023-24

Unlike last year when 8-8.5% growth was projected, this year's survey showed less conviction on growth. It pegged real GDP growth in the range of 6-6.8% depending on the trajectory of economic and political developments globally.

The survey report is bullish on private capital expenditure picking up thanks to cleaning up of the private sector balance sheet. It said the financial sector stress seen in the previous decade — rising bad loans, low credit uptake and falling private investments — is now behind us.

Private investment, according to the survey report, has been aided by the government capex which increased 2.7 times in the past seven years. The capex thrust of the government was part of a strategic package aimed at crowding-in private investment, it noted.

Chief Economic Advisor to the government Dr V Anantha Nageswaran told reporters that capital investment by the private sector is beginning to kick in despite several shocks coming one after another. "Once the shocks dissipate, I expect India's credit and capex cycle to gather more steam than what they have today," he added.

According to the CEA, the recessionary pressures worldwide could prove beneficial for the country as global commodity prices, especially crude oil, would remain at moderate levels. He says that as long as crude oil prices remain below $100 a barrel, it won't hit India's growth prospects.

While talking about structural reforms such as the GST rollout and the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code undertaken over the past eight years, the survey also sets the agenda for next round of reforms – administrative reforms, contract enforcement, dismantling licence, inspection & compliance, access to clean energy and energy security, among others. Adultery law applies for armed forces, clarifies SC

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Tuesday clarified that its 2018 verdict that had decriminalised adultery will not apply to court martial proceedings initiated against armed forces personnel for their adulterous conduct.

A five-judge Constitution bench led by Justice K M Joseph said the court's ruling in the Joseph Shine case was not at all concerned with the provisions of the Armed Forces Act, Navy Act and Air Force Act.

In 2018, a Constitution bench had struck down Section 497 of the Indian Penal Code, declaring it to be unconstitutional and violative of the right to equality of women in treating them as "chattel" (an item of property) and inferior to their husbands. Section 497 had made adultery an offence only with respect to a man, who has a relationship with the wife of someone else.

While issuing the clarification, the bench also comprising Justices Ajay Rastogi, Aniruddha Bose, Hrishikesh Roy and CT Ravikumar said, in the Joseph Shine ruling, "this court was neither called upon nor has it ventured to pronounce on the effect of section 45 and 63 of the Army Act and corresponding provisions of the other Act."

SIMPLE CASE OF MILITARY DISCIPLINE: CENTRE

"It is not about Victorian morality, mine is a simple case of military discipline, operational efficiency for the armed forces," Additional Solicitor General Madhavi Divan, appearing for the Centre, submitted

The court's order came on the Ministry of Defence's plea seeking to exempt armed forces personnel from the ambit of the Shine ruling. It was argued that action against adultery was necessary to ensure that the officers who are serving in far flung areas away from their families do not feel insecure or dispirited. It added that discipline in the military would be eroded if the high moral values of of the officers is diluted.

SANKEY FLYOVER PLAN HAS MANY LOOPHOLES, SAYS MOBILITY EXPERT

IISc professor alleges public being fooled; BBMP replies it's open to feedback

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE proposed 580-metre 1.1 km Sankey Road flyover over Bashyam Circle came in for heavy criticism from residents, civic activists and urban experts at a discussion organised by the Citizen for Sankey (CfS) group at Canara Union in Malleswaram.

Disapproving the idea, mobility expert from Indian Institute of Science (IISc) Prof Ashish Verma said flyovers do not solve traffic problems, they only shift the point of traffic congestion to other parts.

"Projects need comprehensive urban planning, a forecast, and agencies should develop alternative plans like the introduction of light bus, metro rail, urban rail, etc. Besides, public inputs should be taken before any project. And then a detailed project report (DPR) will have to be prepared, but in this case, we have missed all including the feasible study and directly gone into DPR stage," said Verma, adding that the public is being fooled by saying they will reach faster due to such a project.

Shaheen Shasa, founder of Bus Prayanikara Vedike, pitched for more buses and a reduction in ticket price instead of a flyover project.

"Bus carry more people. During peak hours, there are only 5,000 BMTC buses on the roads, but there are 2.75 lakh cars. Instead of the flyover, invest Rs 1,350 crore on 3,000 buses and Rs 100 crore for additional staff," she said.

Advocate Harish Narsappa opined that the flyover is not part of the comprehensive development plan and said the project can be challenged.

BBMP Engineer-In-Chief BS Prahlad, although insisting that the projects should go ahead, said the civic body welcomed suggestions from the public and experts. He defended the BBMP's move for the proposed Rs 60 cr Bashyam Circle-to-Malleshwaram 18th Cross, road widening, and the Sankey Road flyover project.

"The BBMP has been working proactively at crucial junctions like Goraguntepalya, KR Puram Silk Board and others to reduce traffic. The free flow of traffic gets affected from Bashyam Circle. Besides, there is pollution due to long traffic snarls and people get frustrated," Prahalad said, adding, in the peak hours, if there are over 10,000 vehicles, there is a requirement for junction improvement.

BMTC's app launch delayed, hunt on for new name

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Bangalore Metropolitan Transport Corporation's (BMTC) much-awaited Nimmbus app, which missed several deadlines, is likely to take some more time for launch and with a new name. BMTC has been working on this app for weeks, and was all set to launch it by December 23. The launch was then postponed and was expected on Republic Day. However, it has not been launched, as there are multiple bugs that have been found in the soft launch, giving access to limited people.

The app is much-awaited, as it is expected to help passengers track buses in real-time, and provide information on bus schedules, different routes, and ticket fares, along with other information to make travel in the city hassle-free.

In 2016, the transport corporation came up with its first app. After its failure, it launched another one in 2019 and that crashed too due to technical glitches. Keeping the lessons learnt in mind, it is said that BMTC is cautious that the app doesn't fail this time. BMTC MD Sathyavathi said that they are working on fixing the bugs and the technical glitches that have come up while testing the app. "We will fix the bugs and it will take some more time for the app to be launched," she informed, adding that the BMTC is looking for a new name for the app. "We have started to look out for a name as Nimmbus is not catchy. We want to give a catchy Kannada name to the app," Sathyavathi said.

BMTC is expecting more than 10 lakh downloads once the app is launched, which will be available for both Android and IOS users, in Kannada and English. The real-time tracking will be available in around 5,000 buses only as BMTC is not installing a GPS facility in the ones that will be scrapped in a few months.

We have started to look out for a name as Nimmbus is not catchy. We want to give a catchy Kannada name to the app

'Highlight unfair practices in edu sector in budget session'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Associated Management of Primary and Secondary Schools in Karnataka has demanded that the unfair practices in the education sector be highlighted in the upcoming budget session, and necessary actions be taken to address them.

D Shashi Kumar, principal secretary of the association, said the pandemic has been a major reason for lapses in the education sector. The infrastructural aspects in terms of building and fire safety were also seen to be compromised in many schools last year, he said.

The issue of unauthorised schools running irregularly and deceiving parents by claiming the state-approved syllabus as CBSE-ICSE should be effectively tackled. Recently, an incident from Bengaluru-based Orchid International School came to the fore for claiming fake affiliation under CBSE.

The association also suggested for the New Education Policy (NEP) being implemented in the state to be handled by a special National Education Section.

They must be establishing all the rules and guidelines, post which the government and educational institutions must implement them. It was also requested to simplify the assessment tests for Classes 5-8 across the state.

SALEEM'S MANTRA TO STUDENTS: ADHERE TO TRAFFIC RULES

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

STUDENTS from various city schools came together to thank the traffic police at the 15th 'Celebrating Namma Bengaluru's Traffic Police' organised by the Children's Movement for Civic Awareness (CMCA).

Special Commissioner (Traffic) MA Saleem, who was at the event, said, "This is a moment of nostalgia for me, we had such celebrations in the past and CMCA has continued to recognise the work of the traffic police. This gesture boosts our morale and helps us work better. Over the past two decades, the city has witnessed enormous growth and we have more than 10 million vehicles on the roads. The work of the traffic police is very difficult, despite which we stay committed to the service."

Saleem also thanked the students for recognising them. "You (students) will be citizens tomorrow and I encourage you to follow traffic rules, that's the biggest thank you and contribution you can make," the senior IPS officer added.

The event was held on Tuesday morning at the Bangalore Traffic Park beside Bowring Institute, and was attended by 50 students and 50 traffic policemen.

CMCA volunteers conducted awareness sessions for students to help them understand the role of traffic policemen. The students visited various traffic police stations and manned junctions. The event marks the culmination of a three-month programme.

'See if Hopcoms building is within Cubbon Park or not'

ENS @ Bengaluru

The Karnataka High Court directed the state government to conduct a survey through the Assistant Director of Land Records to ascertain whether the building commonly known as Hopcoms building, constructed by the Karnataka Pradesh Krishik Samaj, is within or outside the area of Cubbon Park.

A division bench of Chief Justice Prasanna B Varale and Justice Ashok S Kinagi passed the order recently during hearing of the application filed by the Karnataka Pradesh Krishik Samaj for impleadment to PIL filed by the Cubbon Park Walkers' Association.

Senior Counsel for the applicant, Krishik Samaj, stated that though the building is constructed by the Samaj, it is commonly known as Hopcoms building. It is submitted that the said building does not come within the purview of Cubbon Park, as it is demarcated under the notification dated November 5, 2015. It is further submitted that the cold storage building was in existence in that place since 1965, and the building now constructed does not cover the open area of Cubbon Park.

In order to know the factual situation and to seek a fact-finding report, the court ordered the survey.

As there is some controversy insofar as the standing structure of the Karnataka State Government Employees Association in Cubbon Park is concerned, the court also directed the state government to conduct a survey in respect of the said structure and submit a report. The ADLR shall conduct the survey on February 4, 2023, the court ordered, directing that the report be submitted on or before February 8, 2023.

BBMP DOZERS ARE BACK TO REMOVE SWD ENCROACHMENTS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

The Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP), which had stopped its stormwater drain (SWD) encroachment clearance drive almost two months ago, has once again resumed it following orders from the Bengaluru East Taluk Tahsildar, under Section 104 of the Karnataka Land Revenue Act.

The BBMP deployed its earthmovers over three houses at Chinnapanahalli on Monday and Tuesday. Also, compound walls of houses in Pattandur Agrahara were razed.

As per the Section involving stormwater drains, three buildings, including two-, three-, and four-storied ones, built on a Rajakaluve in Doddanekundi ward of Mahadevpura zone were demolished on Monday.

On Tuesday, the BBMP machines were pressed at Pattandur Agrahara of Garudachar Palya ward. Palike officials demolished a 300-metre-long compound wall built on a Rajakaluve by an apartment complex.

As per the BBMP, encroachments were found in 289 survey numbers in Mahadevpur Zone, out of which encroachments at 81 survey numbers have been cleared so far. And following the resurvey on 157 survey numbers, orders have been issued against 28 survey numbers and officials have started an eviction operation based on the Tahsildar's direction.

The BBMP's SWD department has taken police security, and has deployed BBMP marshals to carry out the operation as earlier, residents at Mahadevapura Zone's KR Puram limits, forced officials to abandon the operation.

"The drive is not selective nor will it be abandoned until all the encroachments of SWDs are cleared. The drive was halted for some time and delayed due to owners moving court and due to resurvey of drains. Based on the resurvey and the Tahsildar's hearing and necessary orders, we are moving forward." said a senior BBMP official from the stormwater drain department.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Personal plans matter most, so don't let authority, society or other external pressures distort your judgment. Give a high priority to domestic plans and be aware of a tendency to stick your head in the sand at work. You can ignore intimate problems, but you can't make them go away!

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
It's a useful day to travel, make contacts and extend discussions which may have got off to a faltering start. Good communication is of the essence, and anyone attending interviews or other important meetings has a perfect right to be confident.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
For the next month or so you may be tremendously open and upfront, but, in reality, keeping all your most important and intense feelings deeply hidden! However, consider this: if you want to communicate with loved ones you might have to be a little more direct.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
It's time to take control and insist that other people see things your way. This doesn't mean that you should ignore their interests, but it's about time you had a fair and unbiased hearing. Perhaps you should spend a little longer preparing your case.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Daydream to your heart's content, and don't let other people make you feel strange for wanting to spend time by yourself. At work, it's very much who you know rather than what you know that carries you through. There's nothing wrong in exploiting personal contacts - is there?

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Your social stars become stronger, which means that even at work it is personal connections which count most. However, you may put the details to one side and look at the long-term, making every effort to broaden your horizons. Besides, there's a surprise just around the corner.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
It's time to be more forthright about your ambitions, including professional aspirations. Also, bear in mind that you can no longer shrug off partners' irritation, for there appear to be deeper issues at stake than you once thought. Not that it's a bad thing, mind you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
You may check out the legal situation, putting the emphasis on your own rights, but not forgetting your responsibilities. Don't let other people make the running when it comes to setting standards, for their view of what should and shouldn't be done is less rigorous than yours.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
This is an adventurous moment, and you should know now that you can't be held back by social taboos which have lost their meaning. Your competitive instincts must be released if you are to come out on top. However, it's not so much a matter of finishing first as doing the best job.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Partnership affairs are central to your life today, so you really should attempt to reach a compromise. Partners and colleagues may be muddled, or they may be unable to express themselves clearly, but that doesn't diminish the relevance of their message.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
There's so much planetary activity in the lower reaches of your chart that maximum change must be expected at home. It could be about another twelve weeks before you're clear about what your part must be. People could be coming and going, but what you really need is security.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You should rummage around in the recesses of your character, searching out those qualities which are business like, organised and efficient. Then you'll be able to divert extravagant stars into the cause of boosting your income. And I can think of no more worthwhile exercise!

Health experts want better infra, med education facilities

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

HEALTHCARE professionals expect more focus to be given to improving infrastructural shortcomings and strengthening medical education and skill training in the country, to improve the quality of services being provided in India.

Prior to the 2023 central budget release, Yuichi Nagano, managing director, Sakra World Hospital, said that while steps are being taken to digitise the nation, strengthening the medical fraternity holistically in terms of healthcare education, training and skill development, and increasing the number of doctors available is equally important.

Only when India has a strong infrastructure can the country have a public-private partnership to create a technologically-advanced robust healthcare ecosystem, where innovative and affordable health solutions are provided, Nagano added.

Dr Sangita Reddy, joint managing director, Apollo Hospitals, opined that there is a need to tweak tax slabs, reconsider GST terms and promote health infrastructure and exponential investments in research and development, to address the issue of both affordability and accessibility.

Adding to the issue of GST, Dr Sharan Shivaraj Patil, chairman, Sparsh Hospital, added that private hospitals are burdened by the lack of GST applicability. While it is not charged to patients, hospitals end up paying GST for everything.

Patil also said that private hospitals have become more involved in government scheme participation, but end up facing losses as government approved prices are not on par with regular charges. Private hospitals are roped in without any aid being provided, he added.

Encouraging investment in quality medical equipment and reducing Customs for the same, was another common issue brought into focus by several healthcare experts. Patil said most of the medical equipment is imported. If quality healthcare is expected at affordable costs in a private setup, then Customs and GST must be reduced. High quality care comes with equipment that is mostly imported, like MRI, CT scans and ventilators. The reduction in patient cost will be directly proportional to the reduction in equipment cost, he added.

Home guard extorts money from couple for sitting in park, arrested

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

NEXT time you a visit a public park or lake, watch out. There are extortionists in uniform on the prowl. A woman from Delhi has accused a home guard of not only acting as moral police but also extorting money from her. She has said that her only 'crime' was that she was sitting with her male friend inside a park at Kundalahalli in Whitefield police division.

The incident took place on Sunday afternoon and came to light on Tuesday after the victim Arsha Latif (25) posted her experience on Twitter and tagged the city police. She also posted pictures of the bike on which the home guard came. The accused allegedly took Rs 1,000 from her friend for sitting in the park without taking permission.

HAL police arrested the accused, V Manjunatha Reddy (47), a home guard attached to the BBMP. He is posted by the BBMP at ITI Colony Unit for patrolling. He extorted the money through UPI on January 29 around 2.30 pm.

Arsha, who works with an MNC in Delhi, was on a visit to Bengaluru to meet her friend, a software engineer in the city.

S Girish, DCP, Whitefield division, told TNIE, "The victim had come to see her friend in the city. The accused, Reddy, is not a cop but a home guard. He is a resident of KR Puram and a native of Srinivasapura in Kolar. We will check his bank account to ascertain whether he is a habitual extortionist."

Arsha's tweet read, "Traumatic experience during visit to BLR. During afternoon on 29/1/23 my male friend & I visited Kundanahalli Lake to sit in the shade and enjoy the view. A cop started harassing us that we did not have the 'permission' to sit there."

This is the fourth such incident in the last two months, where men in khaki have extorted money from innocent people. In December last year, two policemen attached to the Sampigehalli police station were suspended for extorting money from a couple for walking late at night. A few days later, two cops attached to Adugodi police station were suspended for taking money from a couple for smoking in a public place. In January, two policemen attached to the Bandepalya police station were suspended for extorting money from a youth by placing marijuana in his bag.

₹48 lakh pending bills: Bescom serves notice to KC General Hospital

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

GOVERNMENT-OWNED KC General Hospital in Malleswaram was served a notice by the Bangalore Electricity Supply Corporation Limited (Bescom) seeking clearance of pending bills which runs into Rs 48 lakh.

A senior Bescom official told The New Indian Express, "This hospital has a track record of not clearing bills on a monthly basis. With the backlog piling up, we were forced to serve the notice."

Bescom officials said that the first notice was issued to the hospital two months ago and then again on January 17. On January 30, the Bescom staffers went to the hospital asking the authorities to clear the bills, but no avail.

"We do not want to snap the power supply as it's a hospital and patients will be affected. Same is the case with BBMP and BWSSB water bills, especially bills for pumping borewells. While private hospitals clear bills on time, government BODIES tend to delay payments," a senior a Bescom official said.

On an average, the monthly bill of the hospital comes to around Rs 7-8 lakh a month. It runs on a 250KV- HT installation.

A senior official from the hospital, not wanting to be named, said that the required amount is not released by the Health Department in time. "The amount for water and electricity bills should be released by default on a monthly basis on fixed dates under the monthly maintenance amounts. But for every bill clearance, we are forced to seek the department's approval. Since a small amount is released, we are able to partially pay the monthly bills."

BMTC driver alleges harassment, tries to kill self

BENGALURU: Alleging harassment by his senior officials, a BMTC bus driver attempted suicide by drinking poison on Tuesday. The driver, Srinivas, attached to the Kengeri bus depot has been admitted to a private hospital on Mysuru Road. In a letter to the BMTC MD, the driver named the Assistant Traffic Supervisor, Depot Manager and Assistant Traffic Inspector. "From the past four years, I have been working honestly without taking any leaves. My superiors have not allotted me any duty from my depot for the past many days. When I got duty from another depot, my superiors harassed me that I will be marked absent. On Monday, when I demanded to be allotted duty, I was scolded for using offensive words in front of others. When I complained to the Depot Manager, he too did the same," he said. ENS

Kin claim youth killed by girlfriend's family

BENGALURU: A 19-year-old youth reportedly went missing after he left his house on getting a text from his girlfriend's phone, with his family claiming that he was murdered by the girl's relatives. The youth, identified as Govindaraju, a resident of Mathikere, is said to be in a relationship with the girl, a college student in Yeshwanthpur. She stays with her uncle. In a complaint with the Yeshwanthpur police, the youth's family claimed that the girl's relatives came across the messages that Govindaraju sent her on Monday. They tricked him by sending a message from her phone, asking him to meet her at JP Park. Not suspecting anything, Govindaraju went to the park at 10 am on Monday, only to find the relatives of the girl there, they alleged. ENS

KPCC working president and former Home Minister Ramalinga Reddy on Wednesday said that he accepts Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai's challenge to the Opposition to discuss issues related to Bengaluru's development. He questioned Bommai about potholes in Bengaluru. "Many people have died due to potholes in Bengaluru and hundreds have suffered injuries. Is this development?" he questioned

Will simplify rules to help poor buy sites: CM

There are no specific concessions in the Revenue Act for constructing houses, says Bommai

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE State Government plans to streamline laws to help people purchase housing sites at affordable prices. Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Tuesday said rules will be simplified to help the poor to buy sites to build houses as constructing houses will become even costlier in the coming days.

Speaking after dedicating "One Lakh Multi-Storey Bangalore Housing Scheme" and handing over houses at Agrahapallya in Yelahanka taluk, Bommai said there are no specific concessions in the Revenue Act for constructing houses. Land prices have increased due to the demand and common people find it difficult to buy sites due to current rules and regulations, he added.

Bommai said that the government proposes to bring a special amendment to laws to do away with many conditions in the current rules and regulations to help poor people build houses by purchasing housing sites at affordable prices, in Bengaluru and other places. Bommai will present the state budget on February 17.

The houses distributed by CM Basavaraj Bommai under 'One Lakh Multi-Storey Bangalore Housing Scheme' in Yelahanka, Bengaluru, on Tuesday

Taking a jibe at the Congress government for announcing the building of 15 lakh houses toward the fag end of its tenure, the CM said they can make plenty of announcements, but resources must be earmarked for the purpose. They had kept Rs 3,000 crore as against the requirement of around Rs 15,000 crore, he said. The BJP government had the target of building 10 lakh houses of which 5 lakh houses are in the final stages of completion, he said.

Bommai said people must be told what is possible and parties should not make false promises to mislead people. "You cannot cheat people all the time. No one will believe us if we say that everything will be given for free. Responsible people must know where to spend the taxpayer's money judiciously," the CM said.

Bommai said after V Somanna became the Housing Minister, he gave a new look to the department and focused on the completion of pending projects. "After I became the CM, 5 lakh houses are sanctioned of which 4 lakhs are in rural areas and one lakh houses in urban areas. The selection of beneficiaries is in progress. We are fulfilling our promises. Efforts to build one lakh houses in Bengaluru in the last seven years had not become the reality as that announcement was made in hurry without thinking about the availability of land," he said.

The chief minister said now, 50,000 houses are constructed on 492 acres of land in different places and they are in different stages of completion. In the first phase, 20,000 houses will be distributed of which 5,000 houses were distributed on Tuesday.

Genuine expectations: K'taka on development path

PROF R S DESHPANDE
Visiting Professor at Institute for Social and Economic Change and Indian Council of Social Science Research National Fellow

THE Economic Survey 2022-23, presented by the finance minister, brings good hope with 6.5% growth in GDP and controlled inflation for the Indian economy. There is no doubt that certain states have contributed significantly towards the impressive growth of the economy, and Karnataka is one of the forerunners in these efforts.

However, the state does not receive due attention for its efforts in contributing to the growth of the Indian economy. Karnataka's collection of GST in December 2022 itself was Rs 10,061 crore, but till May 2022, pending dues paid by the Government of India was only Rs 8,633 crore. The Finance Commission's recommendations were also not very favourable to the State. Therefore, the current financial condition of the state, with significant outstanding liabilities, is mainly due to non-availability of its own legitimate funds. Therefore, it is expected that from the 2022-23 budget, the Finance ministry expeditiously clears Karnataka's GST dues, which will help enhance development efforts in the state.

RUN-UP TO BUDGET 2023-24

Second, the Government of India usually clears its contribution to centrally-sponsored and Central sector schemes without much delay. However, this time these dues are pending with the Union government, and that staggers the speed of the schemes, causing slowdown in development efforts. There are quite a few infrastructure and urban development projects taken up with support from the Government of India under various programmes. These and other pipeline projects are held up due to shortage of funds to be released by the Government of India. In fact, in this budget, we can genuinely expect the clearance of all dues, besides a few new programmes to boost development efforts of the state, and its contribution to the country's development.

Karnataka is one of the major drought-prone states, and therefore, irrigation schemes need to be prioritised, and it will be perfectly in tune to expect higher allocation in the irrigation sector to complete pending works. The Government of India is committed to backward area development and has made commendable efforts in a few other states for this. Strangely, Karnataka does not find place in this list. The special scheme of Kalyana Karnataka for backward area development would require significant support in the coming budget. Infrastructure development is one of the important components in Karnataka's development efforts, which cannot be accomplished with state resources alone, and hence the state can expect additional allocation in infrastructural development for Karnataka, especially completing the Bharat Mala Road Project, for which Rs 1,44,922 crore was sanctioned, but only Rs 8,500 crore has been approved up to now.

It is strange that Karnataka does not have any facility equivalent to the All India Institute of Medical Sciences in the state sector. It is well known that Karnataka is one of the preferred destinations for medical treatment and most of it happens only in private hospitals located in the state. These are accessible to only one class of citizens, and hence we can expect a state-of-art medical sciences institution to be located in Karnataka, with the initiative from the Government of India in the coming budget. These expectations are not really high, but formed keeping in view Karnataka's contribution to the aggregate growth of the country.

CM: Mahadayi water project has cleared all legal hurdles

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Hubballi

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai asserted on Tuesday that the state government will implement the project linking Kalasa-Banduri nalas to the Malaprabha river, which is known as the Mahadayi diversion project, systematically. His statement comes in the wake of Goa CM Pramod Sawant saying that his government is mulling legal options to stall the project.

"I just want to bring it to the notice of the Goa government that the Mahadayi diversion project is being implemented after a prolonged legal battle," Bommai said.

A recent statement by Union Minister for Home Affairs Amit Shah on the Mahadayi diversion project has created ripples in Goa political circles. Shah had said that the BJP has succeeded in finding a solution to the vexed issue.

Replying to a query on the Goa government's dissatisfaction over Shah's remark, Bommai said: "I don't know what is the stand of the Goa government. This issue has been fought legally in the Tribunal constituted by the Supreme Court. Moreover, the Tribunal heard the case for 10 years, considered all aspects including the hydrology, and gave its verdict."

Observing that the Tribunal verdict is as good as the apex court order and should be considered as an injunction from the top court, Bommai said that in order to implement the Tribunal verdict, the Union government issued a notification after vetting the project details recently. So, the project is being executed systematically as per law, he added.

Congress to screen BBC docuseries on PM Modi at its Mysuru office

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mysuru

THE Congress has decided to screen the British Broadcasting Corporation (BBC) documentary 'India: The Modi Question' at the party's office in Mysuru on Wednesday.

Speaking to reporters here on Tuesday, Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee (KPCC) spokesperson M Lakshmana dared the police to arrest them for screening the documentary.

"Let the police arrest me and stop the screening. We want the people to know the real face of PM Modi and his role in the 2002 Gujarat riots," Lakhsmana said.

Asserting that 'The Kashmir Files' was made to promote Modi, Lakshmana said that the BJP government suspended the session to screen it for its members. "Only actors who praised the PM and to appease him acted in 'The Kashmir Files'. But despite being a British government unit, BBC prepared the documentary series without bending to any pressure from the government. We want our Doordarshan to stop praising Modi and do such documentaries to tell the truth to people," he said.

Meanwhile, Mysuru City Police Commissioner Ramesh Banoth said that the police will initiate legal action against those who are involved in screening the documentary.

Gali Janardhana Reddy and his wife Lakshmiaruna perform pooja to launch 'Kalyana Ratha' in Anegundi, Koppal district, on Tuesday | EXPRESS

All in the family: Reddy fields wife in brother's constituency Ballari

AMIT S UPADHYE @ Koppal

FORMER Karnataka minister and mining baron Gali Janardhana Reddy has announced that his wife Lakshmiaruna Reddy will contest from Ballari as a candidate of the Kalyana Rajya Pragati Paksha (KRPP) — a party that he launched recently — in the upcoming Assembly elections.

Janardhana Reddy had recently announced that he would contest from Gangavathi in Koppal district.

Currently, Ballari city constituency is held by Janardhana Reddy's elder brother Somashekar Reddy of the BJP. Reddy's announcement of fielding his wife against his brother has raised eyebrows in the political corridors. On the other hand, Somashekar Reddy has said that in a democracy everyone is equal and has the right to contest from anywhere.

Janardhana Reddy said that when voted to power, he will free Koppal district from slums. "I have a great plan for the development of Anjanadri. I will construct a 200-bed hospital in Gangavathi. Once we come to power, people need not have to go to Bengaluru to get their work done," he said.

While major political parties in Karnataka have started roadshows with their own modified vehicles, Janardhana Reddy too has announced of launching 'Kalyana Ratha' to tour across Karnataka.

Janardhana Reddy has said that he will announce 40 candidates in Kalyana and Kittur Karnataka regions.

Meanwhile, political experts in Ballari said that the candidature of Lakshmiaruna from Ballari could cost some votes for BJP as Janardhana Reddy is a household name in the district. "Several development activities such as road widening and other civic works were initiated while Janardhana Reddy was a minister. Reddy has a fan following in Ballari," said an expert.

MLC: KPCC is 'K'taka Pradesh CD Committee'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Belagavi

A day after Gokak MLA Ramesh Jarkiholi accused state Congress president DK Shivakumar of hatching a conspiracy to defame him over the sex CD scandal, the former's younger brother MLC Lakhan Jarkiholi hit out at the KPCC calling it 'Karnataka Pradesh CD Committee'.

Lakhan demanded a CBI probe into the CD Gate to bring out the truth.

Addressing the media in Gokak on Tuesday, the MLC said there is a CD factory in Belagavi and is connected to Kanakapura, which is represented by Shivakumar in the Assembly. "CD Gate is a big conspiracy. There is a need for a CBI probe. Similar incidents have been reported since 2000," he said, adding that the state Congress was different during the period of Dr G Parameshwara and Mallikarjun Kharge. "We accept Kharge and Siddaramaiah as our gurus. The present state Congress led by Kanakapura leader is completely different," he added.

Meanwhile, Athani BJP MLA Mahesh Kumathalli also demanded a CBI probe into the CD row. Speaking to reporters at Radderahatti village in Athani taluk, Kumathalli said Ramesh Jarkiholi is innocent. "To damage his political career, a few influential politicians are unnecessarily targeting him," he added.

FKCCI recommends measures to enhance ease of doing biz

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

FEDERATION of Karnataka Chambers of Commerce and Industry (FKCCI) recommended to Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman to increase the deduction allowed against interest on home loans from Rs 2 lakh to Rs 5 lakh as the interest component on home loans under even the Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana (PMAY) scheme exceed the current limit of Rs 2 lakh. The Union Budget will be presented on Wednesday.

FKCCI president BV Gopal Reddy said that they had recommended many measures to enhance the ease of doing business and resolving many grievances of the industry, services and trade.

Tax holidays and special tax benefits to boost businesses in Tier 2 and tier 3 cities, a National Court for Direct Taxes for faster dispute resolution and reducing cost and permitting deduction of CSR expenses incurred by taxpayers pursuant to provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 under Section 37 in computing business income were some of the suggestions.

The trade and industry body suggested extending the benefit of presumptive taxation to Limited Liability Partnership (LP) companies; providing interest-free loans to MSMEs to help them in easing their capital requirement for purchasing new inventory, buying new equipment, expanding their business and modifying the existing grievance redressal mechanism by including an option to track the grievances and escalate such grievances online after a pre-determined lapse of time.

It also recommended re-introducing an amnesty scheme in line with the Sabka Vishwas (Legacy Dispute Resolution) (SVLDR) scheme to clear the backlog of erstwhile tax disputes of companies relating to service tax, central excise and customs; encourage investments into startups by levying lower short-term capital gains (STCG) tax rate instead of slab rate under section 111-A and giving minimum 15 days' time to the assessee to respond to a tax notice under faceless assessment scheme.

Fazil should have got compensation from govt, says BJP MLA

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mangaluru

MANGALURU City North BJP MLA Y Bharat Shetty on Tuesday said that Fazil, who was murdered in Surathkal on July 28 last year, should have got the compensation from the government like others as per the rules.

Shetty also said that the Dakshina Kannada district administration had sent a proposal to the State Government seeking compensation to Fazil's family.

Asked why he did not visit Fazil's grieving family that resides in Mangaluru North represented by him, Shetty said that he stayed away as he did not want to add to the tension that prevailed at the time of the killing. The first-time MLA was speaking at an interaction programme at Mangaluru Press Club.

Shetty maintained that he is unaware about Sharan Pumpwell's recent controversial statement.

To a query, the MLA said that tourists are ready to come to Mangaluru and they are not affected by a few labelling the city as "communally sensitive". "The feeling that it is communally sensitive is just a perception," he said. However, he admitted that IT companies are reluctant to set up units in the coastal city due to the absence of nightlife and entertainment.

To another query, he said that personally he believes that the timings of beaches should be extended for tourists and it should not be out of bounds for them during night. This, he said will most likely be a reality after surveillance and security is upgraded at Thannirbhavi beach which is being developed at a cost of Rs 17 crore in a bid to get the 'Blue Flag' tag.

Centralised kitchen to fire fish meal

ANGARA said that to keep the taste and price of these meals uniform at all places, a centralised kitchen will be set up from where food will be supplied to these canteens.

He pointed out that through this initiative, the department is also looking at generating employment for youth. "We are yet to finalise whether to run this on Private Public Partnership (PPP) model or through government grants," he said.

The state government has also not yet fixed the price of the meals. "We are finalising the places where these canteens will be set up" he added. The initiative will also give a boost to fishermen as the demand for fish will go up if people start consuming it more. A city like Bengaluru has been chosen as there are a large number of people who consume sea food, the minister said.

The state government also has plans to set up such canteens in other districts. "Once we cover Bengaluru, we will set up similar canteens in other urban areas (corporation limits)," he added.

Congress kicks off Siddu poll campaign with lunch

V VELAYUDHAM @ Kolar

KICKING off its election campaign, the Congress laid out a non-vegetarian meal for Vokkaliga leaders and prominent persons from the community in Kolar assembly segment.

It was the first such meeting for Vokkaliga leaders, with former minister Krishna Byre Gowda, MLA K Srinivasa Gowda, K Y Nanje Gowda, MLC Anil Kumar and former Chintamani MLA Dr Sudhakar appealing to voters to support Siddaramaiah in the upcoming election.

The meeting was held on the outskirts of Vemgal, and chaired by Congress leaders from the Vokkaliga community. The meeting could also be the first such in Kolar by the Congress. Those who addressed the meeting targeted the JDS, particularly the Deve Gowda family, claiming that they are keen to promote their family interests and were not in favour of Vokkaligas. Instead of choosing a Vokkaliga leader for the Mandya election, the party fielded Kumaraswamy's son Nikhil, they claimed.

The leaders said that Kolar MLA K Srinivasa Gowda, who won on a JDS ticket and has joined the Congress, was neglected, his seniority was forgotten, and so was his contribution to the party.

They appealed to the gathering to ensure support for the Congress in the upcoming election and elect Siddaramaiah, which will benefit the entire district.

TN goes to SC, wants K'taka to release treated water

Seeks apex court directions for the state to comply with ruling on the Cauvery issue

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Tamil Nadu government has approached the Supreme Court seeking directions to Karnataka and its Bangalore Water Supply and Sewerage Board (BWSSB) not to transfer non-consumptive use of water, drawn from the Cauvery Basin/ River and its tributaries for drinking water supply to Bengaluru city, to the adjoining Pennaiyar river basin.

Also while seeking directions to the Karnataka government to comply with the apex court ruling on the Cauvery issue dated February 16, 2018, Tamil Nadu has sought returning the 80 per cent water drawn from Cauvery river for providing drinking water to Bangalore city as regenerated flow after treatment.

The state has also sought direction to the Cauvery Water Management Authority (CWMA) to monitor the quantum of water drawn for meeting the drinking water supply requirements of Bangalore Metropolitan City from the Cauvery river and the quality and quantity of non-consumptive use of drinking water drawn.

The application states that it is the duty of Karnataka and its departments, namely the BWSSB, to ensure that 80 per cent of the water drawn from Cauvery river and its tributaries to meet the drinking water needs of Bengaluru, is returned to the Cauvery river system. The additional allocation made by this court is only 4.75 tmc as consumptive use and the regenerated flows from the drinking water supply out of the drawal of 23.75 tmc, that is 80 per cent of the water diverted for drinking use (19 tmc), is required to be returned to the Cauvery river system. However, Karnataka failed to ensure return flows after treatment of this regenerated flows to the Cauvery River System.

The application also states that Karnataka has consciously failed to ensure the return flows to the river system and thus committed a breach of the binding obligation under the decision of this court.

Visakhapatnam to be AP capital: Jagan

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Vijayawada

IN a new twist to the nine-year old Andhra Pradesh capital saga, Chief Minister Y S Jagan Mohan Reddy on Tuesday announced that Visakhapatnam will be the new capital of the state. He was speaking in New Delhi during the International Diplomatic Alliance Meet, the preparatory meeting for the Global Investors' Summit-2023. .

"I am here to invite you all to Visakhapatnam, which is going to be our capital in the days to come and I myself would be shifting to Visakhapatnam in the months to come," he said while inviting the diplomats and industrialists to participate in the Global Investors' Summit, scheduled to be held in the City of Destiny on March 3 and 4.

It may be noted that after the Supreme Court had stayed an order of the High Court, directing the State government to develop Amaravati capital region in six months, several ministers and leaders of the ruling YSRC had stated that Visakhapatnam will become the executive capital soon and that the seat of administration, too, will be shifted at the earliest.

Meanwhile, TTD chairman and YSRC regional coordinator YV Subba Reddy said the government is committed to make Visakhapatnam the executive capital and that Chief Minister YS Jagan Mohan Reddy has reaffirmed the same.

Speaking after inaugurating a Goshala at Krishnapuram in Vizag, Subba Reddy explained that all arrangements to function from the Steel City are under way. Vizag will begin functioning as executive capital after overcoming all legal hurdles and administrative issues.

"IT and government-owned buildings, besides vacant spaces under VMRDA (Visakhapatnam Metropolitan Region Development Authority) will be used as government offices. If necessary, we will rent private buildings," he explained.

Stating that some government and private guest houses in the city are being considered as the Chief Minister's camp office, Subba Reddy asserted that Vizag will function as the executive capital before April after overcoming all hurdles.

BRS MPs boycott Prez address in Parliament

ENS @ Hyderabad

MPS belonging to the Bharat Rashtra Samithi (BRS) boycotted President Droupadi Murmu's first address to the joint sitting of Parliament on Tuesday. They alleged that not even a single item, which was raised by the BRS in the all-party meeting, was included in the President's speech, which marks the commencement of the Budget session.

Speaking to reporters later, BRS Lok Sabha floor leader Nama Nageswara Rao said, "Chief Minister K Chandrasekhar Rao is carrying out development across the State despite non-cooperation from the Centre. There was no mention of Telangana's progress and the pro-farmer measures taken up by the BRS government in the President's address."

He demanded that the new Parliament building be named after Dr BR Ambedkar. He pointed out that the Telangana government named the new Secretariat building after Dr Ambedkar.

He also alleged that the Centre was copying the schemes introduced by the Telangana government. He also opposed the Centre's claim that it was providing drinking water to households across the country saying that it was the Telangana government that was providing drinking water with its own funds.

Economic inequality is a corrosive force that undermines economic growth, puts a brake on the fight against poverty, and sparks social unrest

GROWTH RATE A WORRY, ECONOMIC SURVEY SETS NEXT REFORMS AGENDA

The Economic Survey report presented in Parliament on Tuesday is a cocktail of hope and despair—of course, the hopes are well articulated while keeping the despairs draped in a thin veil. The Survey expects the country to hit a higher growth trajectory after eight years of relentless reforms by the Modi government, but it predicts the economy will grow at 6.5–7% for the rest of this decade. The Centre seems to have given up the hope of growing over 8% anytime soon.

The Chief Economic Advisor draws a parallel between the last eight years of the Modi government and the reforms it pursued with that of Vajpayee's between 1998–2004. The comparison extends to the growth rates as well: Like the reforms in Vajpayee's time led to a record GDP growth between 2002 and 2010, India's economy would grow at a faster pace in the rest of the decade thanks to the reforms undertaken since 2014. However, a 6.5–7% rate is not the kind of 'faster' growth the country is looking for. It needs to grow at a higher pace, maybe 8% and above, to ensure the kind of jobs growth India needs for its growing youth population and to improve the living conditions of a large portion of the population.

The Survey acknowledges that the export growth India saw between 2002 and 2010 may not materialise in the current decade, given the slowing global economy. Perhaps the report failed to acknowledge that the global economy is missing a China-like booster that was seen in the first decade of the 21st century. The report indicates that the government will continue to try boosting manufacturing through a scheme like PLI and that it believes India missed the manufacturing bus because of the lack of physical and digital infrastructure in the earlier decades. Now that the government has ensured these two have been in place over the past eight years, India is ready to realise the dream of being a manufacturing hub.

The report also sets the agenda for the next round of reforms, focusing on administrative reforms, contract enforcement, and ensuring energy security, education and skills. The Economic Survey report tried to paint a rosy picture of the economy and its outlook, but the fine print indicates otherwise.

LET CONSCIENCE RULE WHILE USING CHATBOTS

An impactful technology seldom fails to nudge, push or shove the evolution of human behaviour. Some are beneficial, others threaten to cause adverse outcomes, and some do both. The latest on the block to send ripples across the technologically compatible world is the Chat Generative Pre-trained Transformer (ChatGPT)—a chatbot capable of doling out almost human-like text within seconds of being prompted with appropriate questions.

ChatGPT uses "transformer architecture", a deep learning technique, enabling it to rummage through trillions of data bytes with billions of words. It uses this massive data to develop the required combination of words to respond to prompted questions with mind-boggling accuracy, detail and speed. It can answer questions, write essays, compositions and poetry, and give details of almost everything under the sun and beyond—name it, and ChatGPT can deliver it in seconds. It is emerging as an ideal virtual assistant candidate for anyone using it.

Since its launch in November 2022 by Elon Musk- and Sam Altman-founded OpenAI, with funding support from Microsoft, this chatbot is particularly making waves among students of schools and universities, besides professionals. This AI tool is being grabbed with both hands by these segments for help in homework, assignments and projects, aiming at cutting short time and increasing accuracy. More advanced versions of ChatGPT threaten to replace humans in jobs in the not-so-distant future. It could allow students to submit projects without understanding them. It may give unlimited scope for plagiarism or copying. Similar questions by two or more individuals working on a common assignment can prompt ChatGPT to deliver the same answers with the same order of words and figures. It could encourage self-prescription, with the sick asking ChatGPT for treatment solutions instead of experts. Working professionals could see creativity being compromised and out-of-the-box thinking restricted. Academic institutions have started discouraging students from using ChatGPT. Some have banned students from using it. But how do they maintain surveillance when it is done from home or away from the workplace?

Democratic governments are still assessing its perceived impacts. While the threat of compromising human ingenuity, creativity, sincerity and honesty remains, it is finally left to our conscience and responsibility to determine how we prevent ChatGPT from affecting us while seeking its benefits.

QUICK TAKE

DIGITISING HEALTH RECORDS

A major bottleneck to proper medicare is the absence of accurate and updated patients' medical information online. An Ayushman Bharat Digital Mission system claims to seamlessly integrate patients' digital health records, which doctors can access during consultations. The government must, however, ensure against cybercrimes like at AIIMS before popularising such a critical digital health infrastructure tool. Audit trails must be available to track system activities to monitor who accesses confidential patient information. A log of modifications of health records is a must. The system must guard against poor data integrity to prevent documentation errors leading to wrong diagnoses and treatment.

It is perhaps a wise move of the BJP high command to bestow some importance on Yediyurappa, who still retains confidence of a wide spectrum of the population

GETTING THE BJP BATTLE-READY IN KARNATAKA

SUGATA SRINIVASARAJU

Senior journalist and author

SOUMYADIP SINHA

The Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) across India is known as a splendid war machine, but one has to only visit poll-bound Karnataka to realise how underprepared the party's infantry, cavalry and artillery are in the state. Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Home Minister Amit Shah, the two electoral commanders of the party, have been to the state twice already, but have still not spelt out their strategy. It appears that the top two are still absorbing the chaos and confusion in the ranks and are calibrating their response.

Amit Shah, who was in Belagavi, on Saturday asked the local BJP leaders and workers to bury their differences by the time he came to the district next. That was a small acknowledgment of what he was seeing, hearing and processing in one district. He will have to perhaps repeat the statement across the state, in each district. In late December, when he visited Mandya district, he had sharply attacked the Janata Dal (Secular)'s top leadership. Although the attack was directed at Dal leaders, it was interpreted more as a message to his own senior party leaders who have apparently maintained a cozy and clandestine electoral arrangement with the Dal.

This is the first election in decades when B S Yediyurappa (BSY) will not be leading the BJP's poll charge. He has turned 80, and will not be contesting the polls, but he has not announced retirement yet. He has personal stakes in the ensuing battle. In December and early January, there were indications that BSY was sulking; he perhaps felt ignored, but has somewhat cheered up after Modi's Mangaluru visit on Friday, where he was reportedly treated well.

It is perhaps a wise move of the BJP high command to bestow some importance on BSY, the ageing war horse who still retains confidence of a wide spectrum of the population and party workers. However, the BJP top leadership keeping him on their side need not necessarily mean that they will work on his terms and replicate his old ways—the pure caste game. The top leadership may see this election as a transition towards developing a more universal electoral pitch in the state than a balkanised caste appeal. The ground conditions are conducive for such an effort with almost all big caste groups demanding a hike in quota. By doing so, they have effectively cancelled out each other.

The replacement of BSY by B S Bommai as chief minister in mid-2021 has not worked out well for the saffron party. The listless and charmless Bommai has truncated the party's appeal in the last 18 months. He has been a weatherman checking the direction of the wind to hedge his political bets rather than act with conviction. As soon as he came to power, he tried out the hard Hindutva card for a season and allowed the Sangh Parivar to shore up its agenda and assets. When it started damaging the brand equity of the state, and when there was a national and international push back, he walked away into a different arena to work towards his ambition.

Bommai, since he replaced BSY, assumed that it was a mandate given to him by the BJP leadership to bring the Lingayat community under his wings, shunning BSY. Little had he realised that BSY had worked independently at the grassroots for decades and earned his stripes, unlike him with no moorings.

In pursuance of this grand dream, Bommai started appropriating the quota demand of the biggest sub-sect of the Lingayats—Panchamasalis. They wanted to be put under the 2A category of the backward classes. The top leaders of this sub-sect in the BJP, Basanagouda Patil Yatnal and Murugesh Nirani, had turned antipathetic to BSY. Yatnal, who was seen as a protégé of B L Santosh, the BJP national organising secretary, had begun to viciously attack BSY. Nirani had competed to be chief minister when BSY was being replaced. Bommai exploited these divisions.

It was rumoured that Bommai wanted to dramatically announce the new quota category for Panchamasalis during the recently concluded Belagavi session of the legislature. He perhaps thought it would give him a tailwind to lead the party in the assembly polls and also appeasing the community would help him in his constituency, Shiggaon, where they dominated. For some time, there had been questions about his electoral survival in Shiggaon and this had come in handy. The pontiff of the Panchamasali seminary who was leading the quota demand even claimed that Bommai had sworn on his mother to deliver the quota. But this move did not go through. That angered the community.

Besides Bommai, the BJP's top leadership will have to contend with Scheduled Tribe leader, B S Sriramulu, who commands a sizable vote. He has looked distracted of late. His bosom pal, the infamous miner Janardhana Reddy, has started a new political party. Sriramulu put out a tweet the other day for its membership drive, and once it had registered in the minds of the people, deleted it. He has been unhappy largely because he was ignored for the deputy chief minister's post.

The BJP state president Nalin Kateel's term has ended and there is uncertainty over who will replace him. Kateel never made any impact during his tenure and functioned more as a conduit for B L Santosh's interests. He recently courted controversy when he asked people not to worry about development but to be more invested in communal issues like love jihad. Anyway, the guess is, since the Hindutva card has reached a saturation point, it is likely that Modi and Shah will develop an overarching narrative around development.

Then, there are those who crossed over from the Congress in 2019, like Ramesh Jarkiholi, who have become restless. In the restless category are also senior leaders like K S Eshwarappa, who said he will not attend the assembly until he has been inducted again into the cabinet. He had been dropped after his name appeared in a contractor's suicide note. The BJP's state incharge, Arun Singh, also appears to be clueless about the mood in the state. In a recent interview he said there was no need to counter the deluge of corruption allegations against the Bommai government.

It is this scattered army that Modi and Shah will have to pull together to fight a battle in the next three months. They may not hesitate to push through a drastic war plan.

THINK OUT OF THE BOX TO REVIVE FARM SECTOR

DEVINDER SHARMA

Food and trade policy analyst

The deplorable price a vegetable grower from Mahasamund in Chhattisgarh received a few weeks back for his brinjal crop sums up the travails of a farming family. After taking 1,475 kg of brinjal harvest to the Raipur market, the price he received was so low that after deducting the expenses he incurred, including the transportation cost, he ended up paying an extra ₹121 from his pocket. This shocking news came when the government introduced a mechanism of the minimum sale price (MSP) to protect sugar mills from losses. Since June 2018, a provision for paying a minimum price has been made for the sugar industry, which has now been hiked to ₹31 per kg. In other words, while the Chhattisgarh farmer suffered a complete loss and in fact, paid an additional ₹121 literally as a tax for bringing his produce to the market, the powerful sugar industry's cost of production plus profit is all ensured.

There was an estimated carryover stock of 8.5 million tonnes of sugar at the beginning of the 2021–22 marketing season. Despite such a record surplus, and an increased output subsequently, the prices of sugar at which the mills have sold their stock haven't slipped below the benchmark price. This goes against the provisions of competitive prices in a market economy. Still, the government seems more than keen, and rightly so, to protect the powerful sugar industry from any impending collapses. Now, this is exactly what the farmers are demanding. Farmers, too, need a living income by way of an assured price. Several studies have shown that after 2016–17, the growth in farmers' income has not kept pace with the rising inflation.

According to the Situation Assessment Survey of Agricultural Households, Land and Livestock Holdings of Households of Rural India, 2019, the average farm household income from farming operations alone (not including non-farm activities) comes to ₹3,798, which means an average of ₹27 per day. With such a meagre farm income from farming operations, the challenge is increasing it so that agriculture becomes an economically viable enterprise. This is also essential considering that agriculture is the largest employer in the country and, therefore, has the potential to reboot the economy.

If the sugar mills can be protected against losses, in her Budget 2023 speech, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman needs to ensure that the same provisions are expanded to cover the farming sector, so as to catapult agriculture onto a path of unprecedented growth. Seventy-five years after Independence, and in the Amrit Kaal period leading to India at 100, providing an assured and guaranteed price to farmers is the way to pull out Indian agriculture from continuing agrarian crisis. This is the real Production Linked Incentive (PLI) that India needs. Why should farmers be forced to sell at distress prices when they produce record harvests? Provide farmers with a legally guaranteed price, and Indian agriculture will undoubtedly emerge as the second engine of economic growth.

> Provide farmers with a legally guaranteed price, and Indian agriculture will emerge as the second engine of economic growth

Besides brinjal, news reports have repeatedly appeared about how irate farmers have thrown garlic, onion, tomato and other produce onto the streets. Farmers have burnt banana crops, and now even the plantation sector, after the recent collapse of rubber plantations, is crying for attention. In any case, except for wheat and paddy that is procured at the MSP in certain regions, most commodities are invariably sold at distress prices. That is why even after the three contentious farm laws were withdrawn, farmers continued to demand a legally guaranteed MSP.

Being the last full budget before the next elections, it is believed agriculture will receive more attention in the forthcoming budget and, therefore, the possibility of some out-of-the-box thinking leading to a revival of the farming sector. Doubling the direct income support under the PM-Kisan scheme from the existing ₹6,000 to ₹12,000 per year should be one mechanism to supplement farmers' income.

The other area that needs focus is on building climate-resilient agriculture. When agriculture globally is being held responsible for a third of the greenhouse gas (GHGs) emissions and already the rising temperatures cast an ominous spell on the future of food and agriculture, the finance minister should lay out a roadmap for a transition towards agro-ecological farming. Provisions for allocations for programmes and projects delivering benefits for soil, air, water, climate and biodiversity protection and conservation need to be spelt out. Like Project Tiger, a programme to rebuild soils, too, needs to be launched. The devastation in soil health and the growing desertification should be an area of priority attention.

Further, budgetary provisions can indicate a direction the government intends to follow by shifting the focus from international industrial value chains to local and short value chains dependent on ecological farming practices. The Community Managed Natural Farming (CMNF) programme that Andhra Pradesh follows, which claims to have shifted 7 lakh farmers who were earlier practising chemical farming, to non-chemical farming systems, is a laudable initiative that calls for replication. Adequate allocations need to be made for states willing to take the non-chemical farming route. The CMNF programme, the largest agro-ecological farming system in the world, can also be showcased to G-20 member countries.

Already, the European Union has announced a budgetary provision of 264 billion euros under the Common Agricultural Policy beginning January 1, 2023, for a food transformation based on sustainable and resilient agriculture. The Global Biodiversity Framework emanating from COP15 has called for a reduction in pesticide usage by two-thirds by 2030. Although the agrochemical industry wants to be included under the PLI scheme, the time has come to reduce domestic production potential to achieve global targets. This will give an added push to the growing consumer preference for safe and healthy food.

Path of light

I read with interest Renuka Narayanan's column Turning away from tamas and taking the path of light (Jan 30). It reminds me of an incident in Mahabharata where Lord Krishna would say sakuni is his real bhakt who always thinks about him regardless of his intentions being good or bad. It is a neatly written article about the path of light. Hats off to the columnist.

Online exams a must

Apropos of Guj: Another paper leaked, clerk recruitment exam cancelled (Jan 30). This exposes corruption, inefficient management, and a government-middlemen nexus. It is high time such exams are held online, with different versions of the paper and a foolproof system in place.

Green the way to go

Apropos of Budget 2023: Going green not a cost but an investment (Jan 31). The writer's concern and advice to the government that there should be a green budget is justified. The recent land subsidence and cracks in Joshimath which affected the livelihoods of common people is a warning bell to both the Centre and states that development cannot take place without prioritising environment conservation.

Citizens should lead

Apropos of Budget 2023: Going green not a cost but an investment (Jan 31). Harish Bijoor's column is praiseworthy. We, as a responsible country, should lead from the front. The Centre and the states are already doing a great job along with some corporates. Citizens must install solar panels at home and we should use electric vehicles.

Sivakumar Nair, Palakkad

Green Bank good plan

The columnist has beautifully put forth the idea of a 'Green Bank' and a system of green policies and methods. On the whole, I believe the budget has to focus more on a green economy and India becoming fully carbon neutral by 2070.

K Ruthvik Goud, Vizianagaram

Arms won't do good

Apropos of Killing of Palestinian keeps tensions high in west bank (Jan 31). The Israel government should withdraw its latest decision to make it easier for civilians to carry firearms to "defend themselves" because it will further increase clashes and bloodshed. It is also socially undesirable as the firearms are likely to be used more often to frighten and intimidate than for self-defence.

Govt is stable and decisive, says Prez Murmu

In her maiden address to joint session of Parliament, she lists various initiatives of Narendra Modi government

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

DESCRIBING the Modi government's tenure as "stable and decisive", President Droupadi Murmu on Tuesday said the Centre has taken firm steps to ensure national security and women empowerment, as well as adopted measures to root out corruption from the country.

She was delivering her maiden address to the joint session of Parliament on the first day of the Budget session.

"Today, through this session, I express my gratitude to the people of the country for electing a stable government for two consecutive terms. My decisive government has always kept the country's interest paramount and shown the will power to transform policies and strategies when required."

Amid loud thumping by members, Murmu lauded the government for the steps taken to ensure national security.

"From surgical strike to a firm crackdown on terrorism, from a befitting response to every misadventure from LoC to LAC, from the abrogation of Article 370 to triple talaq, my government has been recognised as a decisive government," the President said.

The world is now looking at India for solutions and "every Indian's confidence is at its peak," she said.

Stressing that corruption is the biggest enemy of democracy and social justice, Murmu said the government has taken stringent measures to weed out corruption. "We have ensured that honesty will be honoured in the system. In the last few years, the Benami Property Act was notified to create a corruption-free ecosystem. The Fugitive Economic Offenders Act was passed to confiscate the properties of criminals who absconded after committing economic offenses. A system has also been put in place to end the practice of favouritism and corruption in government machinery," she said.

Elaborating on the efforts taken by the government towards empowering women, the President said that the female population has outnumbered males for the first time in the country.

"We have seen the success of the 'Beti Bachao, Beti Padhao' campaign. From education to their career, my government is trying to remove all obstacles for daughters. My government has also ensured that women are not restricted from carrying out any work or participating in any field of work. For this purpose, recruitment in every sector from mining to forward posts in the army has been thrown open to women," she said, adding that the government has increased the maternity leave from 12 weeks to 26 weeks.

> President Droupadi Murmu

The government has chosen the path of consolidating heritage and giving priority to development, she said. "While Ayodhya Dham is being constructed in the country, construction of a modern Parliament House is underway," she said.

"We have constructed Kedarnath Dham, Kashi Vishwanath Dham, and Mahakal Mahalok, and our government is also building medical colleges in every district," she said.

BJP plans to take Budget message home and abroad

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

THE Union Budget to be presented in Parliament on Wednesday is going to be a major guiding force for the government to not only put India in the global scheme of things in the economic context but will also propel the ruling BJP to take the centrality of the budgetary proposals to the people across the country where the general election is barely 16 months away.

BJP's rising ambition to project India as a global economic player while remaining firmly entrenched at home appears to be a part of a carefully crafted strategy of the party whose contours were available at Prime Minister Narendra Modi's brief interaction with the media on Tuesday. "The Union Budget will be a ray of hope for the world," said Modi. "Amid global economic turmoil, India's Budget will attempt to meet the hopes and aspirations of common citizens," said the PM.

He said the global attention is also focused on India's Budget. "In the current economic situation in the world, India's Budget proposals will not only try to fulfil the hopes and dreams of the common man but will also be a ray of hope which should shine even more brightly for the world." He expressed optimism that Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman will make all-out efforts to fulfil these expectations.

The Prime Minister emphasised that his government's priorities will centre on India first. "Nation first, citizens first," he said. He also profusely praised President Droupadi Murmu's address to the joint sitting of Parliament. "The President's speech is the pride of the Constitution of India, and in today's context, an it is occasion to respect the great tribal traditions of our country".

He also requested the opposition members to come well prepared in Parliament. "I am confident that our friends in Opposition will present their views after studying the topics," Modi said.

The PM's thrust on global repercussions of the Budget proposals was taken forward by the BJP in the national context, indicating the party's preparedness for the 2024 polls. The party will run a nationwide campaign on the Budget with party chief JP Nadda forming a 9-member committee to oversee the exercise.

Sushil Kumar Modi, Bihar's former deputy chief minister and finance minister who is currently a Rajya Sabha MP, is the point person to run the campaign called 'Discussion on Budget' across the country between February 1 and 12.

Sushil Kumar Modi took to Twitter and said that the campaign was aimed at taking the main points of the Budget to the people down to the block level by organising conferences and discussions on the Budget's pro-people concerns.

Experts such as Sunil Bansal, Tejasvi Surya, Rajkumar Chahar, among others, have been included in the committee.

PREZ ADDRESS A POLL SPEECH: OPPN

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

THE Opposition parties came out all guns blazing on Tuesday against President Droupadi Murmu's customary speech to the joint session of the two Houses of Parliament on the first day of the Budget session. While Bharat Rashtra Samithi (BRS) and Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) boycotted the President's address, most of the Congress MPs could not attend it as they were stranded in Srinagar after the culmination event of the Bharat Jodo Yatra.

"Due to delayed flights from Srinagar over inclement weather conditions, Leader of Opposition in the Rajya Sabha Mallikarjun Kharge and many other Congress MPs will be unable to attend the President's address to both Houses of Parliament," Jairam Ramesh tweeted.

Calling it an election speech, Congress MP Shashi Tharoor said that the BJP government was trying to push its election campaign through the President's address.

"The President doesn't contest elections. But it seems like the BJP government is conducting its next election campaign through her. The entire speech was an election speech trying to hail the government for its achievements," he told the media. Speaking to this daily, CPI(M) MP Elamaram Kareem said that the speech was disappointing as it did not address burning issues such as the economic crisis, unemployment, farmers' distress, and others.

Collegium recommends 2 more names for elevation

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court collegium in yet another detailed resolution on Tuesday recommended elevation of Allahabad HC chief justice Rajesh Bindal and Gujarat HC chief justice Aravind Kumar as SC judges.

In an unprecedented step, the four-page resolution stated that while Justice Bindal's name was approved unanimously, Justice Kumar's name was objected by Justice K M Joseph.

"The resolution of the collegium in regard to the appointment of Justice Rajesh Bindal, Chief Justice of the High Court of Judicature at Allahabad is unanimous. However, in regard to the appointment of Justice Aravind Kumar, Chief Justice of the High Court of Gujarat, Justice K M Joseph has expressed his reservations on the ground that his name can be considered at a later stage," the resolution stated.

The resolution said the collegium while recommending Justice Bindal's name considered inadequate representation of judges from Punjab and Haryana HC on the SC bench.

"Justice Bindal stands at Sl. No.02 in the combined All-India-seniority of high court judges. He is the senior-most judge hailing from the Punjab and Haryana High Court. While recommending his name, the collegium has taken into consideration the fact that the Punjab and Haryana High Court which is one of the largest high courts with a sanctioned strength of eighty-five judges is not adequately represented on the bench of SC bench. The High Court of Punjab and Haryana is a common high court for two states," it said.

"While recommending his name, the collegium is conscious of the fact that in the seniority of judges hailing from the Karnataka High Court, Justice Aravind Kumar stands at Sl. No. 02 and that at present, the bench of the Supreme Court is represented by two judges from the Karnataka High Court," it said.

Referring to its earlier recommendation of elevating five judges, the resolution said five judges shall have precedence over two names recommended presently.

The Supreme Court asked Syed Wasim Rizvi, former chairman of UP Shia Central Board of Waqf who has sought for a ban on symbols and names of political parties using religion in their names or carrying religious connotations in their symbols, to not be selective of only impleading political parties having 'Muslim' in their name. "The only contention is that don't consider a particular religion," Justice M R Shah remarked.

Apex court to hear pleas on electoral bond in March

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court posted pleas dealing with electoral bonds scheme for March.

A bench headed by CJI D Y Chandrachud and Justice P S Narasimha also delinked the pleas that had sought for including political parties under the purview of RTI and that had challenged the amendments to the Foreign Contribution Regulation Act, 2010 through the Finance Act of 2016 and 2018.

The court also asked Centre to file its affidavit in pleas related to inclusion of political parties under RTI Act and challenging amendments to FCRA.

Centre was also granted the opportunity to file a supplementary affidavit in the pleas dealing with electoral bond scheme. Last year, a bench headed by Justice B R Gavai had posted pleas dealing with electoral bonds scheme to decide on the question whether they should be referred to a larger bench.

The reference was sought in the pleas preferred by NGO Association for Democratic Reform which argued that such an anonymous route of funding amounted to legitimising bribery as corporates could fund the party in power.

Striking on repercussions of the system on democracy, the petitions had also asserted that the scheme had opened floodgates to unlimited corporate donations to parties and anonymous financing by Indian as well as foreign companies.

Noted lawyer & former law minister Shanti Bhushan passes away at 97

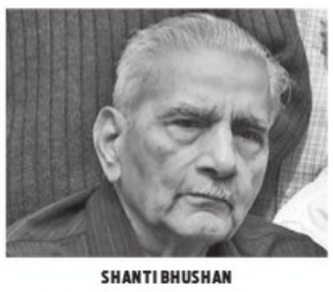
EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

LEGENDARY lawyer and former law minister Shanti Bhushan died on Tuesday at his home in Delhi. He was 97.

A source close to the family of the top lawyer said he was not keeping well. Bhushan was the law minister from 1977 to 1979 in the Morarji Desai government – which came to power after the Lok Sabha elections post-Emergency.

Bhushan had introduced the 42nd amendment Act that had repealed many of the provisions brought by Indira Gandhi during the Emergency.

He and his son advocate Prashant Bhushan were the founding members of the Aam Aadmi Party which was formed in 2012. Bhushan also participated actively in the agitation that was led by Anna Hazare.



SHANTI BHUSHAN
11 NOVEMBER 1925 ● 31 JANUARY 2023

After falling out with AAP conveyor Arvind Kejriwal, Bhushan in 2014 questioned Kejriwal's organisational skills. He felt Kejriwal didn't have it in him to turn the young party into a national force.

He also criticised the lack of democracy in AAP on the day it had launched a door-to-door campaign for demanding fresh elections in the capital.

Bhushan had also represented Raj Narain (Janata Party-Secular) before the Allahabad High Court that had resulted in unseating of then Prime Minister Indira Gandhi. Raj Narain was also a freedom fighter, who had unsuccessfully contested the 1971 Lok Sabha elections from Raebareli in UP against Indira Gandhi. The veteran lawyer had, in his plea, accused the then PM of corrupt electoral practices.

Indira Gandhi moved the SC against the HC verdict. It triggered a series of events culminating into the imposition of Emergency.

1 mnth on, govt comes up with 3 settlement options

U'khand's proposal hasn't found favour among Joshimath residents

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

NEARLY a month after Joshimath was struck by a sudden sinking of land, damaging over 800 houses and commercial establishments, the Uttarakhand government has proposed three options for rehabilitation and displacement of the affected people. However, the residents of the hill town have expressed unhappiness over the proposal. The state government has prepared a plan to offer the choice of one-time settlement as compensation for the damage suffered by the land and buildings, as well as opting for a house and land instead of land.

On the suggestions of the committee formed at the district level, the high powered committee headed by additional chief secretary Anand Vardhan has given its in-principle consent to the three options, from which people can choose any one. The first option offers a one-time settlement, in which the affected land and building owners will be paid full financial assistance in one go, under the prescribed standards as compensation.

Before payment, the registry of the affected land or building will be done in favour of the state government. The second option involves land up to a maximum area of 100 sq.m to be provided to the affected land/building owners for house construction and compensation to be given for the affected building. In case of more than 100 sq.m of land, the affected landowners will be paid for the rest of the land according to the norms.

Under the third option, a duplex building will be constructed in a maximum area of 75 sq.m at the identified place for rehabilitation. If the valuation of the affected residential building or land is more than that being provided, then the resident will be paid the remaining amount.

The proposals have failed to comfort local residents. Chandramohan (40), a resident of Singhdhar, the worst-hit area, said, "We will not accept this proposal of the administration at all. Our trade and livelihood is linked to tourism from here. Displacing us to Pipalkoti, Dhak and other places will lead to a livelihood crisis."

Virendra Negi, a resident of Sunil ward, said, "The administration should adopt a practical approach with displacement and take the decision to relocate according to public sentiment." The three options were approved after the proposals made by Chamoli district magistrate Himanshu Khurana were discussed on Monday.

DIFFERENT CHOICES

One-time settlement
Affected land and building owners will be paid full financial assistance in one go, under the prescribed standards as compensation

Land to be provided
Land up to a maximum area of 100 sq.m will be provided to the affected land/building owners for house construction with compensation

Building construction
A duplex building will be built in 75 sq.m for rehabilitation. If the value of affected area is more, then the resident will be paid the difference

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

AGENCIES @ Dhanbad

AT least 14 people, including women and children, were charred to death, after a major fire broke out in a multi-storeyed building in Jharkhand's Dhanbad district on Tuesday evening, officials said.

A total of 14 people were injured in the blaze that erupted at 6 pm on the second floor of Ashirwad Tower in Dhanbad's Joraphatak area, around 160 km from state capital Ranchi, they said.

"The death toll is 14 at present... The exact cause of the fire is yet to be ascertained," Chief Secretary Sukhdev Singh said. The fatalities include 10 women and three children, a senior police officer said.

Dhanbad Deputy Commissioner Sandeep Singh said the district administration has completed the rescue and combing operation of the building, and the injured are undergoing treatment. "The injured people are out of danger," he said.

Around 15 fire tenders were pressed into service to douse the flames, officials said.

Patil remains go-to person for Guj public

During the Gujarat elections, AAP national convener Arvind Kejriwal attacked the BJP government and accused BJP State President CR Patil of doing the work of a Chief Minister in Gujarat and not Bhupendra Patel. After the Assembly 2022 results, the BJP may have taken this seriously. A leader associated with the BJP, on condition of anonymity, said that, "Even after the formation of the new government, people queue up at Patil's bungalow for various government work. In a meeting, Patil said that department work must be submitted to the government, only work related to the BJP must go to him.

State Cong continues disciplinary action

The decisions of the Congress Disciplinary Committee shocked many Congress leaders. After the crushing defeat of the Congress in the Gujarat assembly, complaints piled up at the Congress regional office. Congress disciplinary committee suspended 38 people, including a former MLA, and eight people by suspending them in the second phase. A Congress leader is claiming that the list of suspensions will get longer, and that most people who were suspended from the party this time were considered very close to some of the big Congress leaders. Some leaders believe that after these steps, there will be a big change in Gujarat Congress.

Oreva MD & Morbi bridge collapse main accused surrenders

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

THE managing director of Ajanta Manufacturing Pvt Ltd of Oreva Group and the prime accused in the Morbi bridge collapse incident, Jaysukh Patel, surrendered on Tuesday before the chief judicial magistrate's court. The collapse had resulted in the death of 135 people on October 30 last year.

Ajanta Manufacturing Ltd operated and maintained the suspension bridge on the Machchhu river in Morbi that collapsed days after it was repaired. Patel has been sent to police custody. When he was taken to jail, the family members of the deceased who were present in the court raised slogans against him.

Dilip Agechaniya, a lawyer representing the victims, said, "Jaisukh Patel surrendered before the court of chief judicial magistrate M J Khan, which had issued an arrest warrant against him. After the court's order, the police took him in custody for further investigation."

In the 1,200 page-chargesheet filed by Deputy Superintendent of Police PS Zala on January 27, Patel was named as prime accused absconding. The main allegation against Patel is that though he had to repair and reopen the bridge for the public after one year, he opened the bridge without a fitness certificate within six months to make quick money. Though corrosion was found on one of the main cables of the suspension bridge, he did not replace it. The job required expert engineers, but he got it repaired with ordinary fabricators.

Patel moved the Morbi district court seeking anticipatory bail in January this year.

Ruckus in Raj Assembly over resignation of 81 legislators

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

AN independent MLA Sanyam Lodha has moved a breach of privilege motion against Deputy LoP Rajendra Singh Rathore who had recently filed a petition in the Rajasthan HC requesting it to direct the Speaker to take the decision on the matter of resignations of 81 MLAs in September.

Lodha, who supports Congress and is considered close to Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot, described the privilege motion in the public interest as Rathore had breached his privilege as a member of the house by defying the power and authority of the Speaker. Lodha questioned if "members of the house could be allowed to weaken or insult the legislature and could the Rajasthan HC dictate the assembly?" Lodha's logic was that just as the HC could not be dictated or ordered to take a decision, the court could not dictate the Assembly Speaker to take a line of action.

The secretary of Rajasthan Assembly informed the HC that the resignations of 81 MLAs were not voluntary.

In poll yr, Shivraj & Kamal Nath in war of words over 'unfulfilled promises'

ANURAAG SINGH @ Bhopal

WITH only 10 months left for the next assembly polls, Madhya Pradesh Chief Minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan and his predecessor Kamal Nath are engaged in a war of words over "unfulfilled promises".

Chouhan has been seeking a response on questions pertaining to "unfulfilled promises" of the 15-month-old erstwhile government led by Nath. On the other hand, the former CM is asking questions about "unfulfilled promises" of the government led by Chouhan.

The incumbent CM, who has been in power for more than 15 years now, poses questions everyday on camera, whether planting saplings at Bhopal's Smart City Park or attending meetings at state BJP HQ. The Congress veteran's questions come largely through the micro- blogging platform Twitter. For two days on Saturday and Sunday, Chouhan asked Nath about bonus to wheat, chickpea, mustard and dairy farmers.

He followed it up with the more questions on Monday. He asked why the 15-month-old Kamal Nath government didn't start the Krishak Kanya Vivah Yojana, which is a ₹51,000 -assistance scheme for marrying daughters of small farmers.

"Forget about starting the scheme promised in Congress's 2018 polls manifesto, even the ongoing CM Vivah Yojana scheme of our government was stopped by the then Kamal Nath government," Chouhan said on Monday.

On Tuesday, the CM while waving the Congress's 2018 polls manifest termed it as a pack of lies. He asked: "You (Nath) had promised during your chief ministerial stint that crop insurance scheme benefits will be given to farmers on the recommendation of Gram Sabhas. Can you (Nath) tell us how many times were farmers benefited under crop insurance schemes during your regime on Gram Sabhas' recommendations?

Nath, on the other hand, questioned Chouhan over twitter on Tuesday, "Is your government actually fulfilling the promise made in BJP's 2018 Vision Document, about procuring 100 per cent pulse crop from farmers?"

BMC SACKS 55 STAFFERS, SUSPENDS 134 FOR CORRUPTION

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

THE Brihanmumbai Municipal Corporation (BMC), Mumbai's civic body, terminated the services of 55 of its employees while 134 staffers were suspended in connection with corruption charges that were proved in the court.

The anti-corruption drive comes ahead of the BMC election that is scheduled to be held in mid-2023. Among the suspended employees, 53 were charged in bribery cases while 81 faced fraud cases under the Indian Penal code. BMC chief Iqbal Singh Chahal said that the organisation wanted to set an example and send out a message, and that's why they took strict action against the employees who indulged in corruption and fraud cases.

"We are against corruption and we have taken a firm stand against it. We will not protect and spare anyone who indulges in corruption," he added.

The 55 staffers who have been sacked were working at various levels, and were found guilty after court proceedings. Besides losing their jobs, the staffers will forfeit all other benefits like pension and gratuity and have been barred from applying for any government jobs in future.

The civic body has also suspended 134 staffers from service for an undisclosed period. A total of 200 civic staffers are embroiled in 142 cases filed by the Anti-Corruption Bureau. In 105 cases, the BMC has given its 'pre-prosecution sanction' to file the cases. Of the remaining 37 complaints, 30 are under investigation by the departments and BMC's approval has not been sought.

In 2018, it was made mandatory for the ACB to take permission from the BMC or any government department before launching a probe against its officials.

As many as 395 complaints were received against BMC employees, ranging from potholes, poor garbage collection, bad condition of footpaths, water scarcity and inadequate spraying of insecticides.

Order scrapping BJP MLA's caste certificate junked

MUKESH RANJAN @ Ranchi

IN a major relief to BJP MLA Samri Lal, the Jharkhand HC on Tuesday allowed his petition challenging the cancellation of his caste certificate by the State Government which gives him scheduled caste (SC) status in Jharkhand and thus making him eligible for contesting assembly election from Kanke constituency reserved for SCs.

Notably, caste certificate produced by Samri Lal, while contesting the 2019 Assembly elections, was rejected by the Caste Scrutiny Committee formed by the Jharkhand Government, as per the Supreme Court ruling in Kumari Patil case.

Terming the cancellation of Lal's caste certificate as wrong, the Court of Justice Rajesh Shankar quashed the order. It, however, observed that the government can get Lal's caste certificate checked as per the rules by forming a committee again.

'What's Ladakh sin?' asks Wangchuk as statehood demand gains ground

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

OVER three years after the Ladakh Union Territory was created from the erstwhile Jammu and Kashmir state following the abrogation of Article 370, people of Leh district held a mega rally on Tuesday to demand statehood and 6th Schedule status for the UT.

The mega rally was held at Polo Ground, Leh, where thousands of people braved the cold to press for their demands. The protest was held a day after engineer-innovator Sonam Wangchuk completed his five-day 'climate fast' to put forth the same demands. The gathering was addressed by politicians, religious leaders, civil society members, traders and student union leaders, who raised slogans in favour of statehood and 6th Schedule status. The Ladakh UT comprises two districts -- the Buddhist-dominated Leh and the Muslims-dominated Kargil region.

Addressing the rally on Tuesday, Wangchuk said, "We had thought that the creation of the union territory would be better for Ladakh as we would have a legislature, and decisions will be taken according to people's wishes. But we have not seen anything like that. Only one man (Lt Governor) is taking decisions for us."

Pitching for statehood to Ladakh, Wangchuk added, "What sin has Ladakh done that it will be kept without representation and democracy? Is it the punishment for Ladakhis for supporting the Indian Army?"

Wangchuk, who inspired the Hindi film 3 Idiots, said people are demanding the 6th Schedule status for Ladakh to safeguard its environment. "We want Ladakh and Himalayas glaciers to be saved. They provide water to both Ladakh and to the entire country," he said.

Wangchuk urged Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Home Minister Amit Shah to invite the local leaders for a meaningful dialogue on the issue. The Leh Apex Body and Kargil Democratic Alliance, two socio-religious, political and youth organisations of Leh and Kargil districts, are jointly spearheading a campaign to ask for full statehood, 6th Schedule status, two Lok Sabha seats and jobs to locals in Ladakh.

B'desh orders 191 'anti-state' news sites to be blocked

DHAKA

THE Bangladesh government has ordered the closure of 191 websites it accuses of publishing "anti-state news", stoking concerns about media freedom in the South Asian country.

Information Minister Hasan Mahmud told parliament on Monday that the government has instructed the telecoms regulator to close the domains following "reports from intelligence agencies."

He said the sites, which were not named, were "conducting activities that spread confusion among the public."

Bangladesh's draconian Digital Security Act, under which hundreds of people have been arrested since 2018, has caused particular alarm.

"The government shouldn't try to control the flow of the internet," Faruq Faisel, regional director of media rights watchdog ARTICLE 19 South Asia, said on Tuesday. "The move to block news sites will hamper freedom of expression in the country. It will pave the way of spreading misinformation and disinformation," he said.

PAK BLAMES SECURITY LAPSE FOR BLAST, TOLL RISES TO 100

PESHAWAR

THE death toll from the suicide blast rose to at least 100 on Tuesday after rescue workers retrieved more bodies from the debris of the devastated mosque inside a police facility in Pakistan's Peshawar.

Lady Reading Hospital spokesperson Mohammad Asim said that 100 bodies had been brought to the medical facility. Asim said 53 injured were currently being treated while seven had been admitted to the ICU. He said that most of the injured were out of danger. Most of the victims were policemen.

At least a deputy superintendent of police, five sub-inspectors and the mosque's prayer leader Maulana Sahibzada Noorul Amin were among the dead. The Tehreek-e-Taliban Pakistan (TTP), claimed responsibility for the suicide attack, saying it was part of a revenge attack for slain TTP commander Umar Khalid Khurasani who was killed in Afghanistan in August last year.

Capital City Police Officer, Peshawar (CCPO) Ejaz Khan told Geo TV that the head of the suspected suicide bomber was recovered from the blast site. The suspected bomber was identified as 37-year-old Mohammed Ayaz son of Salim Khan from Mohmand agency.

The bomber entered the highly secured mosque inside police lines where four layers of security were in place. Provincial Police chief Moazzam Jah Ansari said they are investigating the blast and how the bomber entered the highly fortified mosque in the Police Lines area.

He expressed the apprehensions that the bomber might have been residing in the police lines before the blast as there are family quarters too inside the police lines.

Provincial Police chief Moazzam Jah Ansari said they are investigating the blast and how the bomber entered the highly fortified mosque in the Police Lines area.

Ansari admitted grave security lapses by the police and ordered a comprehensive investigation into the blast. Talking to the media on Tuesday, he said that the search process for entrance to police lines was limited only to the main gate of the police lines. He said 10-12 kg explosives were used in the blast.

A high-level investigation committee has been set up to look into the security lapses. A preliminary investigation report of the blast has been sent to PM Shehbaz Sharif. PTI

Strikes hit France streets in second round of pension battle

PARIS

FROM tiny islands to major cities, demonstrators poured into France's streets on Tuesday in the latest clash of wills with the government over its plans to push back the retirement age. Labour unions aimed to mobilise more than 1 million demonstrators in what one veteran left-wing leader described as a "citizens' insurrection."

The nationwide strikes and protests were a crucial test both for President Emmanuel Macron's government and its opponents. The government says it is determined to push through Macron's election pledge to reform France's pension system.

Left-wing legislators fighting in parliament against Macron's plans are counting on protesters to turn out massively to strengthen their efforts to kill the bill that that would raise retirement age from 62 to 64. Veteran left-wing leader Jean-Luc Mélenchon predicted "a historic day" of protests and defeat for Macron, as large crowds of protesters marched in cities outside Paris.

"It's not often that we see such a mass mobilisation," Mélenchon, speaking in the southern city of Marseille. "It's a form of citizens' insurrection." Palluel said the prospect of having to work longer alarmed mariners on the island with arduous ocean-going jobs. "Retiring at a reasonable age is important, because life expectancy isn't very long," he said.

Rail operator SNCF warned of major network disruptions Tuesday because of strikes. It recommended that passengers cancel or postpone trips and work remotely if possible. Strikes also hit some schools and other sectors. Radio station France Inter played music instead of its usual morning talk shows and apologised to its listeners because employees were striking. AP ukraine to get 120 to 140 modern western tanks

KYIV

UKRAINE said on Tuesday it was expecting up to 140 heavy tanks after its Western allies agreed to supply Kyiv with the powerful weapons following weeks of deliberations.

"Ukraine's armed forces will receive between 120 and 140 modern Western tanks," Foreign Minister Dmytro Kuleba told reporters, describing the figure as the first wave of contributions. "These are Leopard 2, Challenger 2, M1 Abrams," Kuleba said, without specifying a timeline for the deliveries. "We are very much counting on the Leclerc, too," he said, referring to the French battle tank.

Twelve countries have agreed to send tanks, he said. Ukraine's most senior diplomat also said that Kyiv was in negotiations to receive Western fighter jets and long-range missiles. "These are not weapons of escalation. These are the weapons of defence and deterrence of the aggressor," Kuleba said.

Meanwhile, France will send 12 further Caesar truck-mounted howitzers to Ukraine for its fight, Defence Minister Sebastien Lecornu said on Tuesday.

The artillery pieces, adding to 18 already delivered, would be financed from a $217-million fund France set up to fund arms for Kyiv, Lecornu said in a joint Paris press conference with his Ukranian counterpart Oleksiy Reznikov.

The UK government said that sending its fighter jets is "not practical." PM Rishi Sunak's spokesman, Max Blain, said "the UK's Typhoon and F-35 fighter jets are extremely sophisticated and take months to learn how to fly." "Given that, we believe it is not practical to send those jets into Ukraine," he said Tuesday, though he didn't say that the UK was opposed to other countries sending planes. Agencies

US to talk weaponry after saying no to F-16 jets

Washington: United States President Joe Biden said on Tuesday that he will be discussing Ukraine's latest requests for advanced weaponry to defend against Russia with President Volodymyr Zelensky. "We're going to talk," Biden told reporters, speaking the morning after he answered with an emphatic "no" when asked at the White House whether he favoured sending F-16 fighter jets to Ukraine.

Couple in Iran given 10 years in jail for dancing

PARIS

AN Iranian court has handed jail sentences of over 10 years each to a young couple who danced in front of one of Tehran's main landmarks in a video seen as a symbol of defiance against the regime, activists said on Tuesday.

Astiyazh Haghighi and her fiance Amir Mohammad Ahmadi, both in their early 20s, had been arrested in early November after a video went viral of them dancing romantically in front of the Azadi Tower in Tehran.

Haghighi did not wear a headscarf in defiance of the Islamic republic's strict rules for women, while women are also not allowed to dance in public in Iran, let alone with a man. A revolutionary court in Tehran sentenced them each to 10 years and six months in prison, as well as bans on using the internet and leaving Iran, the US-based Human Rights Activists News Agency (HRANA) said.

The couple, who already had a following in Tehran as popular Instagram bloggers, were convicted of "encouraging corruption and public prostitution" as well as "gathering with the intention of disrupting national security," it added.

HRANA cited sources close to their families as saying they had been deprived of lawyers while attempts to secure their release on bail have been rejected. AFP

World economy outlook better but Britain is slipping: IMF

WASHINGTON

THE outlook for the global economy is growing slightly brighter as China eases its zero-Covid policies and the world shows surprising resilience in the face of high inflation and Russia's ongoing war.

The IMF now expects the world economy to grow 2.9% this year. That forecast is better than the 2.7% expansion for 2023 that the IMF predicted in October, though down from the estimated 3.4% growth in 2022.

"Global conditions have improved as inflation pressures started to abate," the IMF chief economist, Pierre-Olivier Gourinchas, said. "The road back to a full recovery with sustainable growth, stable prices and progress for all has only started."

However, the UK is a striking exception to the IMF's brighter outlook for 2023. It has forecast its economy will shrink 0.6% in 2023; in October, the IMF had expected growth of 0.3%. Higher interest rates and tighter government budgets are squeezing the economy.

"These figures confirm we are not immune to the pressures hitting nearly all advanced economies," Chancellor of the Exchequer Jeremy Hunt said in response to the IMF forecast. "Short-term challenges should not obscure our long-term prospects—the UK outperformed many forecasts last year, and if we stick to our plan to halve inflation, the UK is still predicted to grow faster than Germany and Japan over the coming years."

The IMF expects China's economy—the world's second-biggest, after the US—to grow 5.2% this year, up from its October forecast of 4.4%. Together, China and India should account for half of this year's global growth, while the United States and Europe contribute 10%, according to Gourinchas.

The IMF's 2023 growth outlook improved for the US (forecast to grow 1.4%) as well as for the 19 countries that share the euro currency (0.7%). AP

IS 6.5% THE NEW 7% GROWTH NORM?

To reach $5 trillion target by 2028, considering 2 yrs lost to pandemic, needs nothing less than a magic carpet ride

SUNITHA NATTI

IN economics, trend is a good friend. But the series of global macro economic shocks toppled the trendline pattern of all economic indicators, sparing none.

Foremost among all is India's GDP growth rate. Just until recently, the sustainable 7% real GDP growth rate appeared within reach. But the Economic Survey 2023 dashed all hopes projecting an average 6.5% annual growth in the medium-term, which could be 5-7 years from FY24.

The estimate is, however, not cast in stone. As Chief Economic Adviser (CEA) Dr V Anantha Nageswaran indicated, India's growth potential is pegged at 7-8%, which is slightly below the pre-pandemic level of over 8-8.5%.

While a potential GDP of 7-8% is enviable enough, given that the world economy is slowing down, what's disappointing though is the average of 6.5% projection.

Prof Anil K Sood says, at this rate, it'll take about 11 years to double our $3.5 trillion economy! Put another way, to reach the $5 trillion target by, say 2028 (considering the two years lost due to the pandemic), needs nothing less than a magic carpet ride.

But then, averages are often a trap and growth numbers can run both ways, upside or downward. So, Nageswaran, with hope in heart and reliance on reforms, believes that we can haul in more than the projected 6.5% growth rate every year. As the CEA noted, financial and corporate sector balance sheets are fit for growth, and importantly, there's a willingness to borrow and lend. Besides, the higher economic efficiencies from the public digital infrastructure created over the last 6-7 years are expected to add 30-50 bps to the potential GDP growth.

"That's why, my own personal estimate is that we can achieve an average 6.5-7% growth, higher than the headline 6-6.5% projection," he said on Tuesday.

Even as India's retains its bright spot, global economic challenges could spell trouble. Particularly, as the impact of monetary tightening is beginning to show in slowing economic activity, especially in advanced economies, while the adverse spillovers due to supply chains shocks continue to affect trade.

The other factor that's also somewhat unsettling is the projected nominal growth rate of 11% for FY24, down from 15.4% in FY23, which means inflation may remain elevated at over 5% next financial year and confirms that price rises are often swift, but moderation in prices will be gradual.

Given the rising interest rates, it's over to Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman to ensure that borrowings remains at acceptable levels, as higher debt translates to even higher interest rates.

India shouldn't be looking at 8-9% GDP growth at this point, says CEA

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

INDIA shouldn't be looking at 8-9% GDP growth at this point because the difference between the first decade and now is that the global economy was booming then and now it is not, said V Anantha Nageswaran, chief economic advisor, on Tuesday in a press conference on Economic Survey 2023.

While responding to the question asked by this newspaper, he stated in the second decade as well, in spite of the aggressive unconventional exception monetary easing in the developed world, economic growth was not to the extent as they would have anticipated. That is one of the reasons why export growth in the second decade wasn't as good as it was in the first decade.

"So we are being prudent in not assuming that the exports would be such a big contributor to the growth as it was in the first decade. But if it does turn out to be wrong, and the global economy does better, and given India's services growth and the manufacturing capacity is being created and the efforts to plug ourselves in the global supply chain, export growth also kicks in, that would see our potential growth rise from 7% to 8%," Nageswaran added. Meanwhile, on the issue of lackluster private investment, CEA said the businesses are cautious because of global pandemic and commodity price shocks. He said the credit and capex cycle will gather steam once the several global shocks dissipate.

"...But if you look at the data, for the first half of the FY21, FY22 and FY23, private investment numbers in nominal rupee terms have been increasing and in all the 10 sectors. So capital investment by private sector is beginning to kick in despite several shocks coming one after the other. So, once the shocks dissipate, I do expect India's credit and capex cycle to gather more steam than what they have today," he added.

In addition, on the question of risk of slowdown in China, he said the government is looking at the implications of China's reopening of economy on inflation and supply chain disruptions. He declined to comment on economic crisis in Pakistan. "China has reopened after its zero covid policy and the IMF has raised its growth forecast and naturally we are looking at the implications."

PLI scheme to attract ₹3L cr capex in 5 years

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

PRODUCTION Linked Incentive (PLI) scheme is expected to attract a capex of nearly ₹3 lakh crore over the next five years and has potential to generate employment for over 60 lakh, according to the Economic Survey.

The survey, released on Tuesday, predicts that the scheme across these key specific sectors is poised to make domestic manufacturers globally competitive, attract investment in the areas of core competency and cutting-edge technology. The scheme will increase share of manufacturing sector in total capital formation, which currently stands at nearly 17-20% between FY12 and FY20. "It is believed there will be a significant reduction in trade deficit with domestic production substituting for imports. Sectors under which the scheme has been announced currently constitute nearly 40% of total imports. The scheme, spread across 14 sectors, can enhance the country's annual manufacturing capex by 15 to 20% from FY23," reads the survey.

The government has approved 717 applications under 14 schemes by December 31, 2022. It is believed more than 100 MSMEs are among the PLI beneficiaries in sectors such as bulk drugs, medical devices, telecom, white goods and food processing. "As per recent reporting from implementing ministries/departments, nearly ₹47,500 crore of investment has been made; production/sales of ₹3.85 lakh crore of eligible products and employment generation of nearly 3 lakh has been reported and 106% achievement of actual investment reported versus the corresponding projections of FY227." The government recently launched a design led PLI in June 2022 to promote the entire value chain in telecom manufacturing and to build a strong ecosystem for 5G as part of the PLI scheme for telecom & networking products.

AT A GLANCE

- PLI scheme spread across 14 sectors
- Govt has approved 717 applications under the scheme
- Over 100 MSMEs are among the PLI beneficiaries
- Nearly ₹47,500 cr of actual investment has been made under the scheme
- Govt recently launched design led PLI in June 2022

In September 2022, the Cabinet recently approved PLI scheme (Tranche II) on 'National Programme on High-Efficiency Solar PV Modules', with an outlay of ₹19,500 crore to build an ecosystem for manufacturing of high-efficiency solar PV modules in India, thus reducing import dependence in the area of renewable energy.

Common laws for crypto

BENGALURU: For the first time, cryptocurrency found its way into the Economic Survey, as it highlighted the need for a common approach to regulate the crypto ecosystem. The survey tabled in Parliament on Tuesday flagged concerns citing crypto exchange FTX collapse. It said international fora like OECD and G20 are discussing a globally coordinated approach to regulate crypto assets. ENS

India Inc stands behind Adani Ent public offer

SACHIN KUMAR @ Mumbai

THE success of Adani Enterprises ₹20,000 crore follow-on-offer (FPO) will be remembered as the story of how Indian Inc stood behind Gautam Adani-led conglomerate that faced serious allegations from US based Hindenburg Research.

Family offices of prominent Indian business families, HNIs and corporate poured in ₹5,000 crore, which played a crucial role in helping the FPO to steer out of the controversy created by the New York-based based short-seller, which has earlier targeted global companies such as car maker Nikola, Twitter. Names of many big industrial houses have emerged as investors to this mega offer.

On the third and final day of the mega share sale, the Non-Institutional Investors (NIIs), which included Indian corporates, business families an Ultra HNIs stole the show as they bid for 3.19 crore share, against 96.16 lakh shares reserved for them, representing 3.32 times subscription. Family offices are entities created by HNIs to manage their investments.

NII investors who invested more than ₹10 lakh worth of shares saw oversubscription of 4.97 times bidding for 3.19 crore shares even though the shares available for them were 64.11 lakh.

In the ₹2-10 lakh category, corporates, individuals (other than retail investors) and others bid for 75,696 shares. In the ₹10 lakh plus category, Corporates bid for 1.67 crore shares.

From securing just 1% subscription from investors on its opening day on Friday, to getting oversubscribed on Tuesday, the FPO has went through several ups and downs. The mood was sombre among Book Running Lead Managers as the FPO could get only 3% subscription on the second day of subscription. However, the support from Indian corporate on the final day ensured that FPO was fully subscribed on the final day.

Out of the ₹5,000 crore, Indian corporates have bid for ₹2,613 crore on the last day.

AEL had last week received commitments for ₹5,985 crore from anchor investors. Major foreign institutional investors like Abu Dhabi Investment Authority (ADIA), Maybank Asia, Goldman Sachs, Nomura, Societe Generale, Jupiter, BNP Paribas, Al Mehwar, Citi group, Morgan Stanley picked up the stake. Top domestic investors such as SBI Employee Pension Fund, HDFC Life, Life Insurance Corporation of India, SBI Life and other salient names like MK Ventures were also a part of the anchor book. Maybank was allocated 34.09% of the 1.83 crore shares reserved for institutional investors for ₹204 crore, while ADIA got 2.56% worth ₹153 crore. Goldman Sachs Investment lifted 4,45,664 shares worth nearly ₹145.9 crore.

Retail investors give a miss to Adani FPO

SACHIN KUMAR @ Mumbai

STAGING an impressive comeback after a tumultuous week, the ₹20,000-crore follow-on public offer (FPO) of Adani Enterprises was oversubscribed on the third and final day, helped by strong demand from non-institutional investors (NIIs) and qualified institutional buyers (QIBs).

It was a rough ride for India's biggest FPO, which was hit by allegations of irregularities and high debt by the US based Hindenburg Research.

Billionaire Gautam Adani-led company received bids for 5.09 crore shares against the total issue size of 4.55 crore shares, representing subscription of 112%. The portion reserved for NIIs was oversubscribed 3.32 times as the company received bids for 3.19 crore shares against 96,16,323 shares on offer, according to BSE data. QIBs bid for 1.61 crore shares against 1.28 crore shares reserved for them, reflecting a subscription of 1.26%.

As expected, the demand from retail investors was weak and they stayed away from the FPO. Retail portion was subscribed just 12%.

Gautam Adani out of top 10 richest club

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

ADANI Group head Gautam Adani, who had become world's second richest billionaire last year, is now no more in the top 10 global rich list as his ranking has slipped to 11th spot.

Adani is now the world's 11th-richest man, with a fortune of $84.4 billion according to the Bloomberg Billionaire Index. His fortune was estimated at $121 billion at the beginning of the year and he was placed at the third spot in the rich list behind LVMH CEO Bernard Arnault and Tesla CEO Elon Musk.

Adani had added more billions to his name than any other billionaire in 2022 but his fortune has dropped sharply in the last one week after U.S. based short seller and investor activist Hindenburg Research accused the port-to-power conglomerate of pulling the "largest con in corporate history" by engaging in "brazen stock manipulation and accounting fraud" over the course of two decades.

The Adanis have called the report "maliciously mischievous and unresearched" and said it was evaluating legal action. In just three sessions (Wednesday, Friday and Monday) Adani Group's market capitalisation fell by a whopping ₹5.56 lakh crore, impacting its promoters' wealth as well.

FIIs in selling spree, net outflow at $3.5 bn in Jan

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

FOREIGN investors were on a selling spree in January and offloaded Indian stocks worth over $3.52 billion (net) in the first month of the calendar year 2023.

According to market experts, foreign portfolio investors (FPIs) now find Chinese and other emerging markets more lucrative than the 'overvalued' Indian market.

The intensity of selling by FPIs has intensified since Adani Group stocks crashed on the bourses following allegations of stock manipulation among other things by US-based short-seller Hindenburg Research. In the past two sessions, FPIs net sales in the domestic equity market stood at a little less than ₹12,000 crore.

"Indian stocks came under selling pressure in January 2023 due to outflows from FPIs ($3.52 bn) triggered by muted corporate results, high valuations, Adani issue and diversion of monies to China," Deepak Jasani, Head of Retail Research, HDFC Securities told this newspaper.

Jasani said foreign investors purchased a net $21 billion worth of Chinese shares via a trading link with Hong Kong in January, the highest monthly inflow since the cross-border link was launched in 2014 and surpassing total inflows in 2022.

West Ham beat Derby 2-0 in FA Cup, play Man United

West Ham set up a fifth-round match at Manchester United in the FA Cup by beating third-tier Derby 2-0. Jarrod Bowen scored one goal and set up the other for Michail Antonio in a comfortable win for the EPL team at Pride Park. West Ham avoided becoming the 12th top-flight club to exit the competition before the last 16. The big teams remaining were kept apart in the next draw.

Not all wrestlers board Croatia flight, sports ministry adds Babita to OC

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

EVEN as a few of their teammates left to compete in the Zagreb Open Ranking Series, three wrestlers — all competing in the Olympic weight categories — have to head back to SAI Centre in Sonepat on Monday night. The reason — they didn't get the visas for Croatia, which became a Schengen nation this year, on time. All of them have won medals in international events either at age group or senior level in the past.

The Sports Authority of India (SAI) on Monday night said, "The visas of wrestlers going to the 1st Ranking Tournament in Croatia are being stamped. 22 out of 45 visas have already been stamped. The MEA played an active role in speaking to the Croatian Government today (Monday) again and the Croatian Embassy in Delhi is fast-tracking the process. The Ministry of Youth Affairs and Sports has been in constant touch with the Croatian Embassy through MEA to ensure that visas are obtained in time for the wrestlers to participate," read the statement.

Bouts in six weight categories — 57kg, 61kg, 65kg, 70kg, 74kg, 86kg — of men's freestyle wrestling are scheduled on the opening day i.e Wednesday. As the trio's bouts are scheduled for Day 1, they were asked to return to Sonepat. It was learnt that out of 22, who got visas on Monday, 16 including seven wrestlers (4 freestyle & 3 women grapplers) left the same night. The other six are Greco-Roman grapplers, whose events are on Saturday and Sunday.

"Sending them to Croatia makes no sense as even if they leave now, they would not be able to compete," said a source in the know of the development. Incidentally, these are the wrestlers, who had given their biometrics while applying and did not have Schengen visa earlier. The women's wrestling competition is scheduled to begin on Thursday with the bouts in 50kg and 55kg weight categories. It was learnt that around nine wrestlers and support staff have not got their visa at the time of filing of this report. The teams are scheduled to leave in batches.

'Relative' Babita in panel

In an extraordinary development, top wrestlers, who were protesting against the Wrestling Federation of India (WFI) and its chief, have their way as sports ministry on Tuesday added former international wrestler Babita Phogat to the panel of the Oversight Committee. The wrestlers had earlier said that the committee was formed by the ministry without their knowledge and there were reports indicating that they were not happy with it. It is understood one of their demands was the inclusion of Babita. For the record, Babita is a cousin of Vinesh Phogat and sister-in-law of Bajrang Punia.

A statement by ministry said Babita has been added to the the OC formed to undertake the day-to-day administration of the WFI. "The committee is also doing an enquiry into the allegations of sexual misconduct, harassment and/intimidation, financial irregularities and administrative lapses of the WFI, as levelled by prominent sportspersons," said the release. However, there is no legal person on the list as of now.

Finding order in top as hosts play decider

AGENCIES @ Ahmedabad

IT had been somewhat subdued performance shown by the young top order batters. Of course, the uneven turning Lucknow pitch, too has its share in that modest show. When India take on New Zealand in the series T20I decider here on Wednesday, all eyes will be on the three youngsters who are yet to shine. To be fair, Shubman Gill had a great ODI series against New Zealand and Sri Lanka but has been struggling of sorts in the shortest format. Left hand batter cum wicketkeeper, Ishan Kishan too had his spark of brilliance before withering. Rahul Tripathi too had been unimpressive either. But it's not about the three. India must get their experimenting right before settling with the core group that would be integral in for the T20 World Cup next year. As the focus moves to five-day format, India would be hoping to end the T20 run on a high.

Kishan has not been able to find rhythm in his batting since his double hundred in Bangladesh while the turning ball has troubled Gill, who has not been able to replicate his ODI form in the shortest format. Tripathi, too, has wasted chances that have come his way in the absence of regular number three Kohli. If it hadn't been for Suryakumar Yadav and Hardik Pandya, India would have struggled to chase down 100 on Sunday.

In the bowling department, Yuzvendra Chahal and Kuldeep Yadav playing together has helped India build the pressure on the opposition. With the pitch offering a huge amount of turn, it was surprising that Chahal was used only for two overs after he dismissed opener Finn Allen. New Zealand, on the other hand, will be expecting more from their middle order. Sensing an opportunity to win a rare series in India. the Blackcaps will be highly motivated for the challenge.

TEAMS (FROM)

India: Hardik Pandya (captain), Suryakumar Yadav (vice-captain), Ishan Kishan (wicketkeeper), Shubman Gill, Prithvi Shaw, Deepak Hooda, Rahul Tripathi, Jitesh Sharma (wk), Washington Sundar, Kuldeep Yadav, Yuzvendra Chahal, Arshdeep Singh, Umran Malik, Shivam Mavi and Mukesh Kumar.

New Zealand: Mitchell Santner (captain), Finn Allen, Michael Bracewell, Mark Chapman, Devon Conway (wk), Dane Cleaver (wk), Jacob Duffy, Lockie Ferguson, Benjamin Lister, Daryl Mitchell, Glenn Phillips (wk), Michael Rippon, Henry Shipley, Ish Sodhi and Blair Tickner.

LUCKNOW PITCH CURATOR SACKED

The curator of the Ekana Cricket Stadium in Lucknow has been removed from his job after preparing a "shocker of a pitch" for the second T20I against New Zealand. Though India won the game with a ball to spare, skipper Hardik Pandya called the Lucknow wicket a "shocker". New Zealand were restricted to 99 for eight and India had a hard time chasing the small target on a turning track. "The curator has been removed and replaced by Sanjeev Kumar Agarwal who is a very experienced curator. We will turn things around in a month. A lot of domestic cricket was played on all the centre wickets ahead of the T20I and the curator should have left one or two strips for an international game. The surface was overused," a UPCA source said. PTI

'Tour games on Indian pitches are irrelevant'

AGENCIES @ Sydney

FORMER Australia skipper Steve Smith says his team is better off training on its own rather than playing tour games on "irrelevant" Indian pitches ahead of the four-Test Border-Gavaskar series.

Steve Smith

Australia have decided not to play a single tour game in India during the month-long Test series, primarily due to the hosts serving up green tops for practice matches and spinning tracks for the actual games.

Smith, who won the country's best men's player award for the fourth time in his career on Monday, said nets sessions would benefit his side more than the tour games.

The 18-member squad, led by Pat Cummins, had a pre-series camp on spin-friendly tracks in Sydney and will have a week-long stint in Bengaluru before the first Test in Nagpur from February 9.

"We normally have two tour games over in England. This time we don't have a tour game in India," Smith was quoted as saying by news.com.au on Monday ahead of the team's departure to India. "The last time we went (to India) I'm pretty sure we got served up a green top (to practice on) and it was sort of irrelevant. Hopefully, we get really good training facilities where the ball is likely to do what it's likely to do out in the middle, and we can get our practice in," said Smith, who beat Travis Head and David Warner to win the Allan Border medal on Monday.

Long-term planning, proper system and those hard yards at NCA help U19 girls lift T20 World Cup trophy

GOMESH S @ Chennai

IN this day and age of professional sports, any time history is created, there are a slew of measures, including long-term planning and a proper system, that usually go into it. The triumphant tale of Girls in Blue that lifted the inaugural ICC U19 Women's T20 World Cup title is a testimony to such a meticulous planning. It's the culmination of months and months of work done by the coaches and administrators at the National Cricket Academy.

Over the past 14 months, they have conducted several camps, starting with the Zonal in May-June, 2022, where players from different zones were shortlisted and shuffled into groups of 25 at different parts of the country before shortlisting the final squad comprising 25 cricketers for the main camp at the NCA in August. Once the domestic season began, there was the U19 T20 Trophy, followed by the Challengers, quadrangulars featuring India A, India B, Sri Lanka, and West Indies U19s, and bilateral series against the New Zealand Development squad. By the time the final squad was picked, the group of players had spent months together playing an ample amount of matches before getting on the flight to South Africa.

Shrabani Debnath, who was at the camp in the NCA after the challengers and India A team during quadrangulars and the bilaterals against NZ, sums up how it felt when she joined the camp in the NCA. "When I joined, it felt like everything was planned. It was all in place. And it was individualistic — skill-wise, fitness-wise and recovery-wise. How many matches they will play in the World Cup, how much they need to play now before that, it was all planned by the team," Shrabani, who is with the Tripura women's team as head coach, told this daily. "The thing is it is better to make more mistakes before the main event so that you can learn. We needed to learn before the World Cup. Those matches and preparations everything was planned. Every day after every session we used to sit together with all the staff and talk about each player, and how much they bowled or threw, everything was monitored. And the results are there to see."

Shrabani feels that there is a difference in the generation of the players that have come up as well. "The way the U19 girls are evolving now is very nice. If you look at three years ago I have done zonal camps, these players are on a different level. The way they play, think, and their smartness, it is way better. The players have developed because of the T20 format. They try shots and have to be fit. The batting coaches ask them to be fearless and bowlers try variations. And in U19, there are 15-year-olds, but we don't treat them differently. They will be treated in the same mature way and the same is expected of them," said Shrabani.

The former Tripura player also credits the way Nooshin Al Khadeer handled the team. While it was the first time she worked with her, Shrabani said, "She is very good at her job. She doesn't talk too much, but knows how to get the best out of a player," she said.

And behind all the work that has gone was the head of the NCA, VVS Laxman. Shrabani calls him the mastermind. "Whenever I spoke at the NCA with Apurva (Desai) sir and Rajeeb (Dutta) sir, I felt like he (Laxman) was the mastermind. He really supported us a lot. Organising all the camps and even during rains, we used to have sessions, something or other will keep happening. It all could not have happened without his planning," Shrabani signed off.

Yashasri's story of perseverance

GOMESH S @ Chennai

WHEN the India U19 squad for the World Cup was announced in early December 2022, Yashasri Soppadhandhi was upset. She had not made it to the final 15. Although she consciously tried not to have expectations, it was the end goal of her determined hard work over the past 14 months, except there was a silver lining. She was in the squad for the bilaterals against hosts South Africa and was named as a standby for the World Cup.

Cut to January 29 at Potchefstroom; Yashasri was among the names the presenter called out as the Indian team collected their World Cup medallions. How? As luck would have it, an unfortunate injury to the Mumbai all-rounder Hurley Gala meant Yashasri was drafted into the squad and has become a world champion.

"She was down (when she was not selected), but at least she was going to South Africa, so was consoled. Then poor Hurley got injured. Yashasri got lucky, and they have made history by winning the World Cup," said S Venugopal, who is an ex-serviceman now working as a clerk in Canara Bank.

For Yashasri, cricket was an accident. While studying at the Indus International School in Hyderabad, she was into all the other sports like coco, swimming, and basketball, but not cricket. On a day in 2016, when the school cricket team needed a player, and as she was tall, they asked her to bowl. Instantly, she was inspired by the sport, especially by one player —Pooja Vanka. As someone who was clueless about the sport or any cricketing rules, watching Pooja smash the bowlers across the ground in inter-school matches inspired her. She later thrived to become a better player than Pooja, with whom she would become best friends. Once she got it in her head that cricket was her sport, there was no going back.

Even at a very young age, Yashasri's thirst for knowledge helped improve her cricket. She used to watch matches not because of the players or teams but to learn from what a player does in a certain situation. She was initially training at Bhavan's Cricket Academy in Secunderabad under MV Rao before moving to Iqbal Cricket Academy a couple of years later. Yashasri was aware that she was not having any social life growing up, but she wasn't worried about it. For her, cricket was everything. It has given her all the friends and good people she has in her life. Her parents encouraged her to do whatever she wanted. She and G Trisha moved up the ranks rapidly in Hyderabad cricket.

Off the field, Venugopal took care of everything that she required to excel. Having worked in the Indian Air Force before taking VRS and joining the bank as a clerk, it was not an easy road for him financially. As someone who has played divisional cricket, he knew the struggles, but he had help.

"Once I retired, I had to get a flat. I had to pay for the school to ensure a good education for my children. In that way, for cricket, Iqbal sir, and Kanishk, who runs a gym and trains her, all charged me very less in comparison to others. Vidyut Jaisimha at the HCA, they all helped with the cricket. Of course, GV Rami Reddy (Trisha's father) is always there. We are really good friends. Wherever our kids play, we always go around the country to watch them play. Same with Roshini Kiran's father, Soumya Tiwari's father, and Hurley Gala's dad too. We all became friends when we went to see our daughters play," said Venugopal.

On the field, Yashasri had her share of struggles too. After a poor run in the 2021-22 U19 one-dayers, the fast bowling all-rounder was not picked for the Challengers. She came home to her mother, K Vidya and cried. While she was smiling on the outside and taking out her frustration at the gym and practice sessions, it was the time that made her realise how much it meant to her. It made her more focused and determined. A good senior tournament followed, and then she was called for the zonal and later the NCA camps. "For me, the biggest inspiration was Ben Stokes. The way he came back after giving away the World Cup in the final, it inspired me a lot. That is when I realised the ups and downs everyone will have; how you come back is all that matters," Yashsri had told this newspaper.

Venkatesh gives Karnataka lead

AGENCIES @ Bengaluru

MEDIUM-PACER M Venkatesh sizzled with a five-wicket haul as Karnataka produced a sensational bowling effort to bundle out Uttarakhand for a paltry 116 on the opening day of their Ranji Trophy quarterfinal here on Tuesday. Karnataka were 123 for no loss at stumps.

The 22-year-old Venkatesh justified captain Mayank Agarwal's decision to field after winning the toss as he rocked the top-order, removing Avneesh Sudha (17) and Dikshanshu Negi (9) early after Vidhwath Kaverappa (2/17) drew the first blood, dismissing opener Jiwanjot Singh (1).

Vijaykumar Vyshak (1/25) then had Swapnil Singh (0) caught by Samarth R, while Kaverappa cleaned up Aditya Tare (14), as Uttarakhand lost half their side for only 64 in 27.4 overs. Kunal Chandela (31) tried to hold one end but wickets continued to tumble, with Venkatesh returning to strike twice in the 47th over, sending Akhil Rawat (14) and Abhay Negi (1) back to the dressing room. The Mysore pacer also had Chandela caught by Manish Pandey as spinner K Gowtham mopped up the tail with two wickets.

BRIEF SCORES (quarterfinals)

At Bengaluru: Uttarakhand 116 in 55.4 ovs (Venkatesh 5/36, Kaverappa 2/17, Gowtham 2/22) vs Karnataka 123 in 26 ovs (Mayank 65 batting, Samarth 54); At Rajkot: Saurashtra 303 in 87 ovs (Bhut 111 n.out, Snell 70; Markande 4/84, Baltej 3/60) vs Punjab 3/0 in 1 ovr; At Kolkata: Jharkhand 173 in 66.2 overs (Suraj 89 n.o; Akash 4/62, Mukesh 3/61) vs Bengal; At Indore: Andhra 262/2 in 88 ovs (Bhui 115 batting, Shinde 83 batting) vs Madhya Pradesh.

Bhui, Shinde shine for Andhra

INDORE: A fluent century by Ricky Bhui and his association with Karan Shinde helped Andhra overcome the blow dealt by skipper Hanuma Vihari's injury on day one of their quarterfinal against defending champions Madhya Pradesh. Thanks to Bhui's unbeaten 115 and Shinde's 83 not out, Andhra ended the day at 262 for two.

Earlier, pacer Avesh Khan struck Vihari with a bouncer when Andhra were 72/2. The blow left Vihari in some discomfort and he subsequently decided to retire hurt. Later, scans revealed that Vihari had suffered a wrist fracture.

Authorities seek fans behind hate attack against Vinicius

AGENCIES @ Madrid

Vinicius Junior

AUTHORITIES are searching through security cameras and social media to try to identify those responsible for hanging a dummy of Real Madrid forward Vinicius J'nior from a highway bridge last week. Members of an anti-violence committee in sports met on Monday and said an investigation was underway to try to find those who hung the dummy and a banner with the words "Madrid hates Real" hours before Real Madrid played Atl'tico Madrid in the quarter-finals of the Copa del Rey on Thursday.

The message on the banner is often used by one of Atletico Madrid's ultra fans groups, though at the time it denied being responsible for the display. The hate attack drew widespread condemnation by the clubs and other soccer officials across Spain. Vin'cius scored in Madrid's 3-1 win at Santiago Bernab'u. He said on Twitter after the match that "there is only one Madrid, everyone knows it," and "Vini loves Madrid." The next day, the Brazil forward said "love will always beat hate." Vin'cius was targeted by racist chants earlier this season.

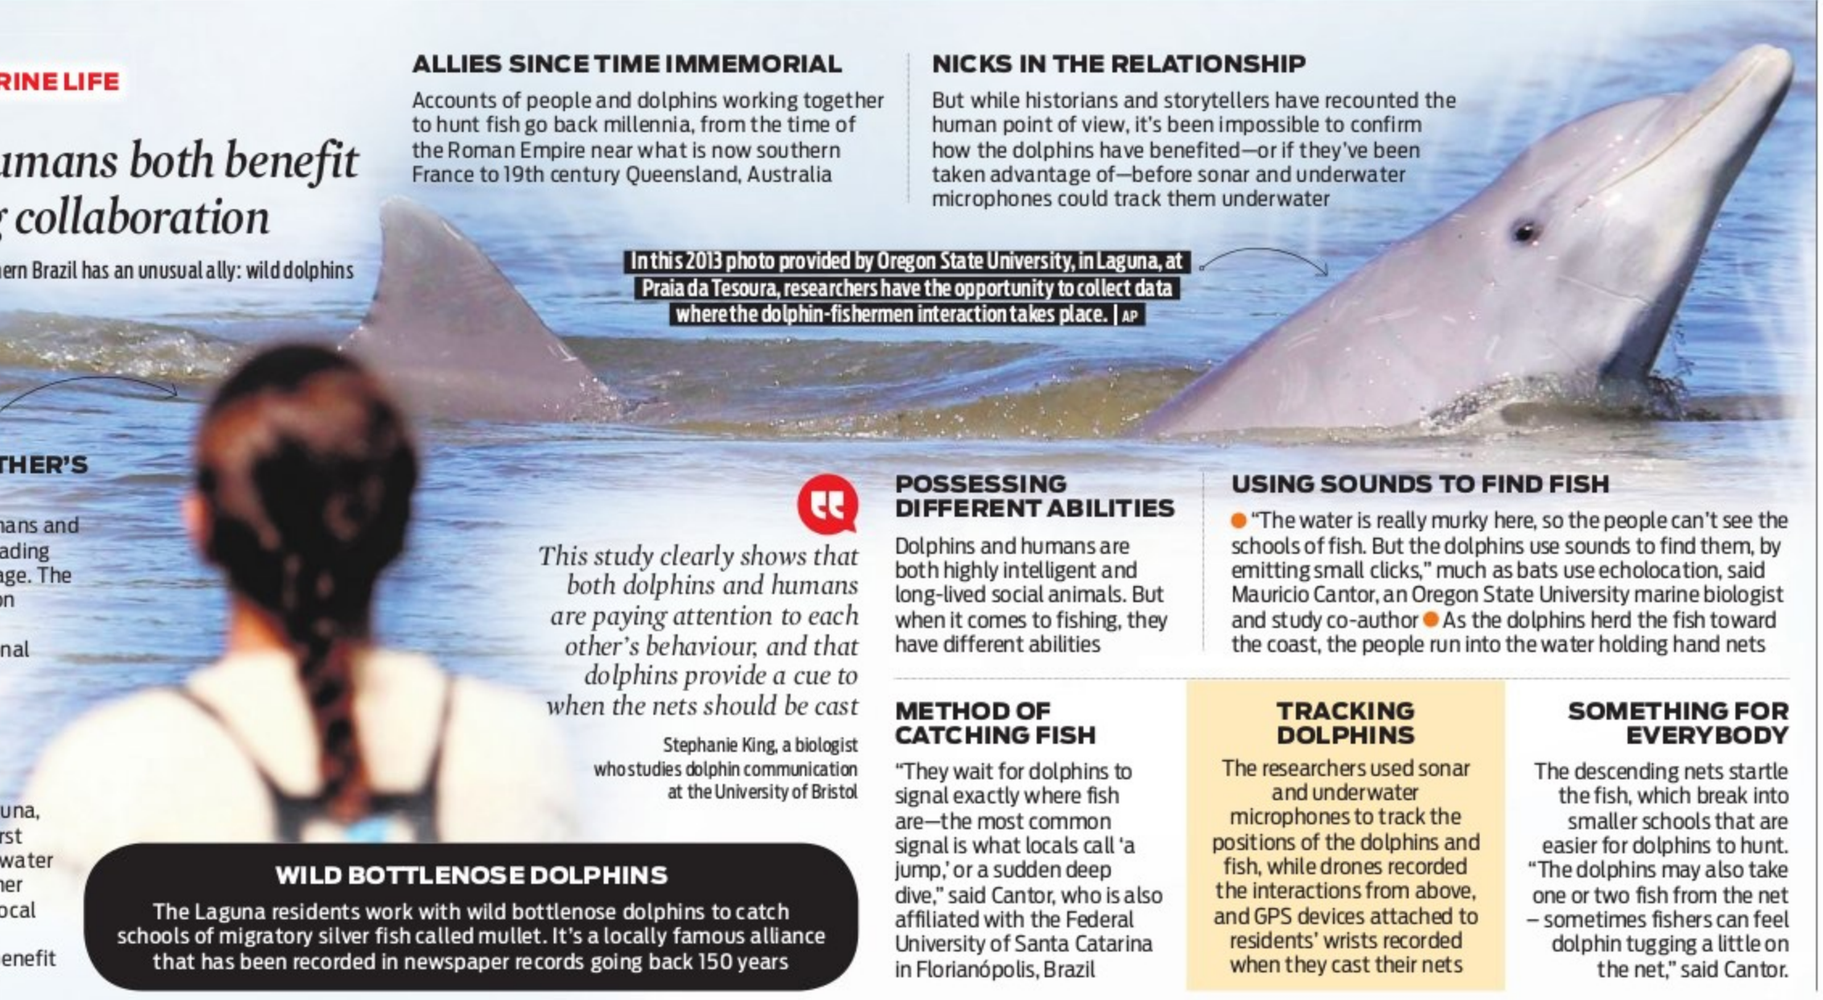
Dolphins, humans both benefit from fishing collaboration

A fishing community in southern Brazil has an unusual ally: wild dolphins



In this 2013 photo provided by Oregon State University, in Laguna, at Praia da Tesoura, researchers have the opportunity to collect data where the dolphin-fishermen interaction takes place. | AP

READING EACH OTHER'S BODY LANGUAGE

The most successful humans and dolphins are skilled at reading each other's body language. The research was published on Monday in the journal Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences

DOCUMENTING COORDINATED ACTIONS

In the seaside city of Laguna, scientists have, for the first time, used drones, underwater sound recordings and other tools to document how local people and dolphins coordinate actions and benefit from each other's labour

WILD BOTTLENOSE DOLPHINS

The Laguna residents work with wild bottlenose dolphins to catch schools of migratory silver fish called mullet. It's a locally famous alliance that has been recorded in newspaper records going back 150 years

ALLIES SINCE TIME IMMEMORIAL

Accounts of people and dolphins working together to hunt fish go back millennia, from the time of the Roman Empire near what is now southern France to 19th century Queensland, Australia

NICKS IN THE RELATIONSHIP

But while historians and storytellers have recounted the human point of view, it's been impossible to confirm how the dolphins have benefited—or if they've been taken advantage of—before sonar and underwater microphones could track them underwater

This study clearly shows that both dolphins and humans are paying attention to each other's behaviour, and that dolphins provide a cue to when the nets should be cast

Stephanie King, a biologist who studies dolphin communication at the University of Bristol

POSSESSING DIFFERENT ABILITIES

Dolphins and humans are both highly intelligent and long-lived social animals. But when it comes to fishing, they have different abilities

USING SOUNDS TO FIND FISH

● "The water is really murky here, so the people can't see the schools of fish. But the dolphins use sounds to find them, by emitting small clicks," much as bats use echolocation, said Mauricio Cantor, an Oregon State University marine biologist and study co-author ● As the dolphins herd the fish toward the coast, the people run into the water holding hand nets

METHOD OF CATCHING FISH

"They wait for dolphins to signal exactly where fish are—the most common signal is what locals call 'a jump,' or a sudden deep dive," said Cantor, who is also affiliated with the Federal University of Santa Catarina in Florianópolis, Brazil

TRACKING DOLPHINS

The researchers used sonar and underwater microphones to track the positions of the dolphins and fish, while drones recorded the interactions from above, and GPS devices attached to residents' wrists recorded when they cast their nets

SOMETHING FOR EVERYBODY

The descending nets startle the fish, which break into smaller schools that are easier for dolphins to hunt. "The dolphins may also take one or two fish from the net – sometimes fishers can feel dolphin tugging a little on the net," said Cantor.

Biomaterial may repair cells and tissues

HEALTH

Scientists have developed a new biomaterial that can be injected intravenously, reduces inflammation in tissue and that could be used to repair the damage to cardiac tissue resulting from a heart attack.

The researchers at the University of California (UC) San Diego, US, also provided proof of the concept in a rodent model that the biomaterial could be beneficial to patients with traumatic brain injury and pulmonary arterial hypertension, the study said.

The biomaterial was tested and proven effective in treating tissue damage caused by heart attacks in both rodent and large animal models.

"This biomaterial allows for treating damaged tissue from the inside out," said Karen Christman, a professor at UC San Diego, and the lead researcher on the team that developed the material.

Boeing bids Farewell to 747 jumbo jet

The final Boeing 747 lands at Paine Field following a test flight | AP

TECH

SEATTLE: Boeing bids farewell to an icon on Tuesday: It's delivering its final 747 jumbo jet.

Since its first flight in 1969, the giant yet graceful 747 has served as a cargo plane, a commercial aircraft capable of carrying nearly 500 passengers, a transport for NASA's space shuttles, and the Air Force One presidential aircraft.

It revolutionised travel, connecting international cities that had never before had direct routes and helping democratise passenger flight.

But over about the past 15 years, Boeing and its European rival Airbus have introduced more profitable and fuel efficient wide-body planes, with only two engines to maintain instead of the 747's four.

The final plane is the 1,574th built by Boeing in the Puget Sound region of Washington state.

A big crowd of current and former Boeing workers is expected for the final send-off. The last one is being delivered to cargo carrier Atlas Air.

"If you love this business, you've been dreading this moment," said longtime aviation analyst Richard Aboulafia.

"Nobody wants a four-engine airliner anymore, but that doesn't erase the tremendous contribution the aircraft made to the development of the industry or its remarkable legacy."

Boeing set out to build the 747 after losing a contract for a huge military transport, the C-5A.

As the stage production of late playwright Girish Karnad's Crossing to Talikota returns to B'luru, director Arjun Sajnani chats about his take on Karnad's novel and the funding it received from Nandan & Rohini Nilekani, and Kiran Mazumdar-Shaw

RESURGENCE: IN MEMORY

TUNIR BISWAS

IN early 2019, late Kannada playwright Girish Karnad proposed an idea to his neighbour, thespian and director Arjun Sajnani. The idea was to create a theatrical production of Karnad's final literary work Crossing to Talikota, which Karnad himself had scripted in Kannada and translated into English. Karnad and Sajnani met at the latter's restaurant Sunny's, sometime in January-February, and the former requested Sajnani to helm the project and direct it.

"He handed me his script and asked me to read it. He had also added a beautiful note inside it. Now, of course, the prospect of working on an original script that had not been looked at before and written by Karnad himself was terrifically exciting. My loyalty to him was enough for me to start working on the project, and the two of us discussed the casting a little bit as well," shares Sajnani, who had previously directed Karnad's play The Fire and the Rain for the stage and later, on the screen in the early 2000s.

The staging of Crossing to Talikota took place for the first time in October 2019. Unfortunately, Karnad passed away in July that year and couldn't see his ultimate work come to life. However, most of his family members attended the opening night. That was the only time the play got to see the light of day.

That is until now. Sajnani is bringing back the theatrical production to the city on March 10, 11 and 12 at the Chowdiah Memorial Hall. The play will also be performed in Mumbai on March 31, April 1 and 2. Nandan and Rohini Nilekani, and Kiran Mazumdar-Shaw had also stepped in to fund the large-scale production.

Sajnani is looking forward to the resurgence of Crossing to Talikota. "In its initial production, it was a kind of show that you couldn't see twice as the clarity of the opening scene was missing a little bit. But over the last three years, we have fixed all the rough edges, and now it conveys exactly what Karnad wanted to say. I am also anticipating our debut performance in Mumbai as it has been pending since 2020 due to Covid killing our former production plans," he says.

The production went through multiple changes during the Covid-stricken years. "While I was sitting for over two years doing nothing, outside of running my restaurant, I worked on a film script for the piece as well. I always felt Karnad's treatment of the subject matter and certain visual elements would lend itself to being a strong period film. Now, as I was working on the film script, that inherently inspired me to make certain changes to the theatrical production as well," says Sajnani. Notable screenwriter Javed Siddiqi also helped Sajnani in writing the script in Urdu and Dakhni.

Crossing to Talikota is about the devastation of the Vijayanagara empire that eventually was brought down to dust. The empire, decimated and dilapidated, would thereafter be only known as 'the ruins of Hampi'. Sajnani feels this work, outside of celebrating Karnad's legacy, also sheds light on South India's history, which has been long overdue in the mainstream space.

"It is not a long play and doesn't go into many aspects, but I feel, it rekindles interest in that period. Now, of course, creative liberties have been taken, but the event itself is the most important part, as the battle of Talikota was a catastrophic calamity. As we go through the story, we can see how Karnad, in his way, tries to trace why it happened and how it could have been avoided. The play also gives us a glimpse of South India at that time when Muslim and Hindu cultures seemed to interact and intertwine with considerable ease and how that careful balance was manipulated and eventually led to the destruction of the empire. Karnad was always interested in the geopolitics of it all. I believe students should also attend the play to get an idea of what this historical period was like," he concludes.

The Indian Institute of Astrophysics traces back its origin with the setting up of a private observatory by William Petrie, an officer with East India Company in his residence in Madras (Chennai) way back in 1786. The Madras observatory played a significant role in the 'Great Trigonometrical Survey of India' (GTS) commenced in 1802 with the setting up of the baselines, including Bengaluru, which determined the height of Mt Everest as the world's tallest mountain. ROCKING HARD

SIMI KURIAKOSE

IN a space where it is common for indie groups to disband, pursue solo careers, or just quit music, Thermal And A Quarter (TAAQ) can be stamped as a rock-solid band. The four-member B'luru-based outfit, comprising Bruce Lee Mani (vocals and guitar), Rajeev Rajagopal (drums), Tony Das (guitar), Leslie Charles (bass) has been instrumental in establishing the homegrown genre that they identify as 'Bangalore Rock'. TAAQ rocked their show in Delhi with their distinct musicality. In this edition of Soundscape, we speak to members about their journey as artistes, what Delhi can expect, and more. Excerpts:

You started TAAQ in 1996, one of the few bands in India that has stood the test of time. Even when indie music was at a nascent stage in this country, how did you go about breaking out in the scene and solidifying the TAAQ legacy?

Bruce (BLM): I don't think there was any attempt or agenda back at that time to 'solidify a legacy'. Guess what we did right was stay together and keep writing new music. Over time, the cumulative effect of all that has resulted in this 'legacy' as you mention. Now, we're more aware of our work, sphere of influence, and continued drive to have a blast making music!

Unlike any other band in the country, you have popularised a homegrown style that you call 'Bangalore Rock'. Was this creation completely organic, or were there any influences?

BLM: Through the process of writing our early material, we discovered that our individual influences were varied. As expected, our early material saw us wear these influences on our grubby sleeves rather excessively – that's the natural process of songwriting craft. Ten to 15 songs down, we found ourselves more in command, but still discovered that we (a) loved to mix up various styles, (b) were strangely fond of South Indian rhythmic intricacies and odd-meter syncopations, (c) liked to write about things we experienced in B'luru, in words common to Bengalureans. For years, we continued to call our music ridiculous things like progressive-blues-rock-funk-fusion-pop. Along comes an old friend (HR Venkatesh) – he remarks on the inescapable 'Bangalore-ness' of our words and in that very conversation, 'Bangalore Rock' was born.

How was it for TAAQ to connect with rock fans across India?

Leslie (LC): Sometimes, how one performs the material is more important. If you play well and put on a good show, the audience will want to be part of the experience.

How has your music evolved?

Rajeev (RR): Staying true to the rebels in us, our music has used, to its advantage, the steady decline in attention spans of most youngsters to bloom into a multi-layered progressive form, going against the grain of what most commercially-released music is today.

Actor Mahesh Gowda is out with a celebrity talk show Masti Masala, which features actors like Asha Bhat and Kushee Ravi

MONIKA MONALISA

IF you are tired of binging on OTT shows late at night, it might be a good idea to try something local. Actor-director Mahesh Gowda's celebrity talk show Masti Masala is the latest talk show of the town. The show, which is available on the YouTube channel of his production house HonuDi Productions, has featured actors like Asha Bhat and Suri already.

A fan of talk shows, Gowda says it is a weekly Kannada talk show targeting the local audience. Every week the team will be releasing one episode each Friday. "It's a celebrity talk show that I made for YouTube as of now. For Season 2, I want to take it to television. But it is filled with many segments, which are fun. We have avoided any controversial questions," says Gowda, adding that the show starts with a brief introduction about the guests. "Two episodes are out and the third episode with actor Kushee Ravi is going to be out this Friday. Then we have Srini, who is working with Shivrajkumar in Ghost. We also have Reena S D'Souza, Radhika Narayan, to name a few," he adds.

Trying not to make it mainstream with the journey of the guests or their upcoming movies, Gowda intended to make it fun-filled. "I don't know the questions that my team has prepared. We have a general idea about the quiz, dumb charades, all with a twist," he says.

Asha Bhat with Mahesh Gowda

Apart from the conversations, the show will also feature live performances. "For example, we invite one independent singer to the show and dedicate a song to the guest. I know so many such independent singers who are so good at what they do but never got a chance to perform on such a big scale. I wanted to create that visibility for them," says Gowda, who adds the idea came when a lot of independent artistes reached out to him for opportunities.

Not just artistes, the show also creates visibility to budding entrepreneurs. "We have a hamper for the guests , which is primarily from entrepreneurs... It could be a painting, handmade essential oil, homemade chocolates or liquid jaggery. Incidentally, all these entrepreneurs happen to be women," says Gowda, whose latest movie Bili Chukki Halli Hakki, opposite Vaishnavi Gowda, will be out soon.

A fan of the talk show, Gowda's personal favourites include The Ellen DeGeneres Show. "A lot of that show's episodes are heartfelt and have very fun yet sweet moments. I am a huge Sandalwood lover, so I love Ganesh's talk show too. He makes it really fun. From Bollywood of course, Karan Johar has set the bar quite high. Even Ritiesh Deshmukh's talk show is quite fun. He makes the show funny with his facial expressions," he says.

THE BEST OF EXPERIMENTAL WRITING

LINCOLN in the Bardo by George Saunders is not about President Abraham Lincoln but his son William, who died tragically at the age of 12 in 1862. It is also a book comprised quotes (accompanied by their citations). This 2017 Booker winner was my first exposure to an experimental form of writing (though I had earlier read Slaughterhouse-Five and Ulysses which were considered experimental in their times). The novel takes place during and after the death of Lincoln's son William 'Willie' Wallace Lincoln and deals with the president's grief at his loss.

'Experimental' literature utilises unconventional or unorthodox forms to convey meaning and produce an impact. This can mean, for example, constructing a completely non-linear narrative, or creating characters that are aware that they are characters within a story. But bear in mind that a form is always experimental in relation to an earlier form. When Hemingway's early short stories were published, they caused a huge tumult because he was disrupting the earlier conventions of what constituted literary language. But now Hemingway's clipped prose has influenced so many generations of writers around the world, that it has itself become conventional. 'Experimental writing' is therefore hard to define because no single definition suffices.

Experimentation in the literary arts is often considered inaccessible. If you are a fan of experimental writing, then you probably enjoy uncovering deep meaning in surprising texts. The plot is not subtle and often shakes up the reader. They bend genres and play with language and form to tell a story in a way it hasn't been told before. Often it is defined by what it is not rather than what it is. It's fun, because there are no rules and there are infinite possibilities.

If you are a writer and want to improve your skills, experimenting with the extremes of writing helps build confidence. Acknowledged as one of the most influential of modern French writers, Raymond Queneau's Exercises in Style has been part translated, part adapted into over 30 languages. It contains 99 versions of the same, very basic story employing a variety of styles, ranging from sonnet to cockney to mathematical formula. Every writer should read this to expand their understanding of literature and how they can go beyond first- and third-person narration. Translating this book would have been every translator's ultimate challenge! Another highly recommended book especially for budding writers is The Mezzanine by Nicholson Baker. What makes this 133-page book a classic is that nothing happens in the story. The plot, if you can call it one, is simple: a man buys a pair of shoelaces!

In Yann Martel's Self, the main character changes gender several times. (In Virginia Woolf's Orlando the eponymous character continually changes gender, location and historical period!) Martel uses the page in the book in an interesting way: each page is divided into two where on one side is the character's thoughts and the other side, his description.

A novel that I did enjoy but which took a lot of effort to finish was The Interrogative Mood by Padgett Powell. Imagine a book that begins by asking a question – and then continues with one question after another. Many questions were peculiar, some a bit mad and some of them were very thought-provoking. Unlikely though it sounds, it's a work of real charm.

However, since experimental novels hinge upon innovative and clever form rather than content, most are difficult to get through and need an open mind and a lot of patience to be enjoyed.

WHY INDIA LOVES SHAH RUKH KHAN

HRIDAY RANJAN
Urban Bourbon

(Writer, comedian)

PATHAAN has been declared a blockbuster, and social media is awash with posts dedicated to the man. I watched the film on the first day, and wasn't particularly impressed. But the cheers and hoots in an upmarket multiplex gave me a sense of relief. For the last two years, Bollywood has been burning so much money at the box office, you'd think Nero himself was the producer of those movies! It felt good to see Bollywood get a reprieve after so long, but there was no denying the fact that the movie is running successfully only because of Shah Rukh Khan.

As a child in the '90s, there was no escaping Shah Rukh Khan. From fairness creams to private banks, SRK adorned every hoarding, every magazine and newspaper. Everybody I knew was a fan of his. My ex-girlfriends, my relatives, my aunts across age and religious spectrums. Was it envy? Who knows! I don't even remember the person I was back then. But I knew that I didn't like the kind of movies he made. Those soppy tear-jerkers where he stretches his arms out and weeps, and all is well with the world again. I was an angry teenager behind an internet cafe computer typing away on my blog, and held a certain distaste for the SRK brand of movies.

It was only years later that I realised what Shah Rukh Khan meant to his fans. If you had the misfortune of watching Hindi films from the early '90s, you'd know that the 'hero' would be jailed within two days in the real world. This was a guy who'd go to college in a jeep and trouble the girl that he liked. The kind who would bash up competitors in college, and chase people with a knife in hand, while soaked in blood. Shah Rukh Khan changed all that. Of course he HAS made those kinds of movies, no doubt. But he also played the kind of hero that we could relate to. One who had no qualms crying, apologising, and going down on one knee to mend personal relationships. Gradually, SRK films came to symbolise everything good about the world - love, friendship, family.

Along with Sachin Tendulkar, Shah Rukh Khan was a symbol of a new India in the '90s. A self-made nation charging forward through grit and talent. He was the first superstar who appealed not just to Indians, but to Indians overseas – who saw in him a sliver of what they left back home. Shah Rukh Khan also represents a secular India where a Muslim actor is known by names such as Raj and Rahul. Perhaps he reminds people of the pre-social media era. When you didn't have to put out EVERY opinion for the world to hear. When trolling, name-calling, and conspiracy theories are as acceptable as pomeranian dogs umpiring cricket matches. As a standup comedian, I appreciate that there is a star who is witty and well-read. Listening to film actors talk is usually a gratingly painful experience.

As a film critic, I have to walk into a theatre every Friday to judge a movie. Most Fridays, I wish that humans had not evolved beyond bonfires and hunting, just so that I could avoid watching the movie. I went to watch Pathaan in theatres – the first movie after my opinion on the man had changed. Even though the film was quite silly, I didn't feel the weekly anger surging through me. After years of flops, of ridicule, or being judged unfairly by the media - the man probably deserves it!

BOOK LAUNCHED

Recently, Champaca Bookstores organised the book launch of The Mahar Folk, by Alexander Robertson, published by Panther's Paw. Yogesh Maitreya, founder of Panther's Paw, was at the event to give a short talk on Caste Histories: Longing to Speak and Be Heard, followed by an audience interaction. Speaking at the event, Yogesh said, "The book is an ethnographic study of the original inhabitants of Maharashtra which seeks to highlight the history of the Mahar folk and how they were eventually categorised as untouchables." Speaking about who gets to tell their own stories, he added "A Dalit individual must confront his own fear and decide whether to fight (against caste) with books, his one and only weapon, or to write, publish, and distribute his stories, history or songs."

A still from Gowri Shankara

Helmed by Anees and produced by NS Rajkumar, this family entertainer has a Caucasian Shepherd dog playing an important character

THE INTRIGUING FIRST LOOK OF RAVICHANDRAN & APOORVA FROM GOWRI SHANKARA IS HERE!

A SHARADHAA

CRAZY Star Ravichandran and Aporva along with the team are currently in Dandeli shooting for Gowri Shankara. The film, which marks the directorial debut of Anees is backed by NS Rajkumar. Fifteen days of shooting has been completed till now.

Though the project is billed to be a family entertainer, the first stills that CE got hold of promise an intriguing and quirky film. The pictures show the Crazy Star in a king's avatar, adorned with a crown. Apoorva, on the other hand, is dressed like a queen, and she is seen posing along with a caucasian sheperd dog, named Cadabom Hayder, which plays a pivotal role in the film.

Director Anees is keeping the details of the film under wraps and plans to reveal details once they are back from the schedule. However, CE has learned that the costumes in the pictures are a part of the hallucination of the lead actors.

Apoorva, who marked her tinsel town debut with Ravichandran's directorial named after her, reunites with him for the second time.

The team post-shooting in Dandeli will be heading to Yellapura, where they have planned a schedule for 15 days, post which they will be heading to Bengaluru.

Gowri Shankara will have music by Karthikeyan and cinematography by Sathish.

Apart from this film, Apoorva has Sutradhari in the lineup. As for Ravichandran, he was recently seen in Darshan's Kranti and is also part of Dhruva Sarja's KD.

Apoorva along with Cadabom Hayder

JASON BATEMAN TO DIRECT THE PINKERTON FOR WARNER BROS

CE FEATURES

OZARK star and Emmy award-winner Jason Bateman is all set to get behind the camera again to direct The Pinkerton. The film was acquired two years ago by Warner Bros. and JJ Abrams' banner Bad Robot is a supernatural revenge film.

Bateman, Michael Costigan and Hannah Minghella will also be producing the film. There is no information about the cast details of The Pinkerton yet.

The Pinkerton is based on a real-life detective agency from the 1850s. Allan Pinkerton, a former deputy sheriff in Illinois set up The Pinkerton National Detective Agency in the United States. While initially, the agency focussed on railway thefts, their claim to fame came in the 1860s when Allan claimed to have prevented an assassination attempt against President-elect Abraham Lincoln. In turn, this led Pinkerton's agents to become personal guards for Lincoln during the Civil War.

Bateman, best known for his acting career, has previously directed for both television and films. The dark comedy Bad Words in 2013 is his feature directorial debut. A couple of years later, he directed The Family Fang. He also starred in both of these films. On the Television front, Bateman has helmed Arrested Development, The Outsiders, and Ozark.

SCRAPPER: RAISING GEORGIE

NAMRATA JOSHI

CHARLOTTE Regan's debut feature film Scrapper starts with the saying "It takes a village to raise a child", only to have it rebuffed by the 12-year-old precocious protagonist, Georgie (Lola Campbell): "I can raise myself. Thanks." Following the death of her mother, she prefers living alone in their shabby flat in the needy neighbourhood to being taken care of by someone else.

The singular situation, of her own making, leaves the audience with a swell of contradictory emotions. On the one hand, is the amusement at her chutzpah, the way she tricks the social security services; on the other is the sad realisation that the deliberate search for privacy stems obviously from her inability to reconcile with the deep loss. As she goes about vacuuming her home while keeping the spiders safe, stealing bikes to earn a living, chatting with and confiding in her only friend Ali (Ali Uzun) and striking off yet another step on her "Five Stages of Grief" poster, you can sense that a lot is unresolved behind the seeming stoicism. "I will get out of it quick," she says bravely. Will she? Isn't she pretending to be ok, even to herself, when she isn't quiet? You can feel the depths of her pain as she sees the videos of herself with her mom on the mobile or takes refuge in the scrap-filled room or when she runs away to the hideout outside to have a good cry under the stars. She appeals to and invokes our collective feeling of protectiveness in the face of her extreme vulnerability.

Regan creates an uncommon, refreshingly offbeat exploration of a child's inarticulate bereavement, grief and loneliness in Scrapper that premiered at the recently concluded Sundance Film Festival and won the Grand Jury Prize for the World Cinema Dramatic competition. It could have easily lapsed into either the maudlin and sentimental or the way too light and breezy. But Regan keeps it poised well on the bittersweet and poignant as she goes about experimenting with the tone, tenor and style, peppering the narrative with idiosyncratic speech bubbles and random, direct-to-camera comments of the community Georgie lives in. It feels just as real in its essential grimness as it is wacky and whimsical and, much as it might seem, it's not an awkward marriage of the two.

It's tough not to see Scrapper in the light of Charlotte Wells' Aftersun when Georgie's estranged father Jason (Harris Dickinson) makes a sudden entry into her life. A father who hasn't ever met her and who she hasn't heard about.

Just as there is something similar about every parent-child relationship, these ties are all bound to be very different as well. So, while the dynamic of the father-daughter duo may not be as searing and sublime as Aftersun, there is something decidedly heartwarming about Scrapper as our initial concern for her, the doubts about him and his motives, lead to empathy for their struggles in connecting with each other and the world.

Campbell and Dickinson are perfectly in tune with each other in the two-hander. There's something decidedly similar about them—he is an overgrown adolescent, a man who is still the boy; she is a kid who has decided to grow up hurriedly, both misfits in the world. There is a sense of parity in their conversations with each other. He wants to get to know her, and she demands an explanation—why now, after 12 years? His confession of not being prepared for fatherhood makes her wonder if he even tried.

It's a tricky negotiation between the two, made knottier by the ghost of the past and memories of the one person who meant the world to her and who is now no longer beside her. But it's she who brings them together, the mother is the glue that eventually binds the father and daughter. Georgie lets Jason in, into her world, admitting that she'd rather be with someone than stick it alone but with the condition attached that he would not replace her mother. Despite the hiccups and missteps, there's hope that they will get along and be there for each other. It's a journey from distances, distrust and disputes to tentative cuddles and warm hugs. A journey from personal voids to belonging and being.
